

ARLINGTON ENTERPRISE

DEVOTED TO THE PROMOTION OF HOME INTERESTS.

Vol. V. No. 14.

ARLINGTON, MASS., FEBRUARY 5, 1903.

Three Cents

Men Who Have Traveled

acknowledge that in correct styles, excellent finish, and exquisite fit, our work is equal to the best.

Dress Suits

during the rest of this month and February made to order for $40.00—all silk lined throughout.

Ladies' Work to Order

J. D. Rosie MERCHANT TAILOR,

POST OFFICE BUILDING, ARLINGTON, MASS.

WM. H. MURRAY & CO.,

Wholesale and Retail Distributors of

Beef, Mutton, Lamb, Veal, Pork and Poultry.

STAPLE AND FANCY GROCERIES,

Boston Office.

Arlington Branch.

45 NORTH ST., - BOSTON.

941 Massachusetts Ave., Arlington.

Telephone, 1181-4 Rich.

Telephone, 21353

If you pay more than we charge for repairing you pay too much. If you pay less, you don't get your work done right.

We do our watch, clock and jewelry repairing as well as it can be done and our prices are right.

WETHERBEE BROS., JEWELERS AND CYCLE DEALERS.

462 MASSACHUSETTS AVE.,

ARLINGTON, MASS.

Telephone Connection.

HOW TO SAVE TIME AND MONEY. Trade With Us

WE CARRY EVERYTHING BUT HIGH PRICES.

PRESCRIPTIONS PUT UP IN FIRST CLASS ORDER. YOU GET THE BEST DRUGS.

Our aim is to do more business on a closer scale and keep trade at home. We need the money.

C. W. CROSSMITH, REGISTERED PHARMACIST.

Massachusetts Ave., Corner Mystic St.

Arlington, Mass.

Telephone to call Physicians.

R. W. LE BARON, Electrician and Contractor.

Electric Light Wiring, Bells, Speaking Tubes, Telephones and Burglar Alarms, Electric Flat Irons, Heating Pads, Electric Stoves, Medical Batteries, etc., Electric and Gas Table Lamps at reasonable prices.

474 MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE,

ARLINGTON, MASS.

ANY ONE WOULD BE GLAD TO GET NICE FLOWERS.

If you have any doubt about the pleasure, send your friend some of the splendid blossoms.

LILIES, AZALIAS

and CARNATIONS.

and it will make you both glad. One thing is sure, the flowers you buy here will be first class.

FUNERAL DESIGNS A SPECIALTY.

W. W. RAWSON, FLORIST

Cer. Medford and Warren Streets, ARLINGTON

TOWN AFFAIRS.

EXECUTIVE ORDERS OF THE SELECTMEN AND ACTION UPON PETITIONS.

At a meeting of the selectmen, Saturday evening, January 31, the following business of general interest was transacted:

A hearing was given the Atlantic Telegraph Co. and the New England Telephone Co. relative to poles and wires on Chestnut street. Messrs. Allen, Donahue, Pratt and LeBaron appeared in different interests.

A petition was received, signed by W. W. Rawson and others, asking for a special town meeting relative to purchasing land in the Jason street district, so-called, and erecting thereon a primary school.

Voted, to call said meeting Wednesday, February 11, 7.45 p. m.

Petitions received from the New England Telephone Company, as follows: Lowell, near Park street, one pole; Massachusetts avenue, near Jason street, one pole; Massachusetts avenue, near Schouler court, two poles; Brattle street, near station, one pole. The above petitions were granted.

A petition was received from H. M. Wiggin for a light on corner of Broadway and Wyman street. This was not granted because there are no funds for additional lights.

Mr. E. S. Farmer of the board, excused himself before the close of the meeting, leaving a communication which proved to be his resignation from the board of selectmen. It was voted to lay the resignation on the table for one week.

Adjourned at 11 o'clock.

RESIGNATION OF SELECTMAN FARMER.

Much surprise occurred in town when on January 31, Edwin S. Farmer, chairman of the board of selectmen handed in his resignation. He was not present at the meeting of the selectmen Saturday night, and his term in office does not expire until next year; he has been selectman for eight years.

It may be Mr. Farmer's action may have some connection with the unrest of the town affairs caused by the investigation of the finances caused by the recent treasury shortage. No action on the resignation was taken at the meeting Saturday night. Mr. Farmer has been a very valuable member of the board, and it will be hard to find a man to fill his place.

BARON HUMBURG.

A most enthusiastic audience gathered in Tremont Theatre on Monday evening, when Baron Humburg was produced for the first time by members of the Bank Officer's association.

Baron Humburg was written for them by Mr. R. A. Barnett of Boston, and is in two acts and three scenes.

From a musical point of view it ranks higher than most of the musical productions and there are good jokes scattered throughout. The music is the joint work of five composers. The chorus numbers were splendidly done, and the costumes and scenery were bewildering. Many of the gowns were creations of sartorial art and the men carried off their parts to perfection. The whole affair was a delightful performance and one of the cleverest amateur performances given for some time, it will continue through the week with a special matinee on Saturday and should net a large sum for the sick and death benefit fund of the association.

Mr. Edward A. Bailey was in the Hussar chorus, and Mr. Harold A. Yeames in the Hungarian band, both young men are well known and reside in Arlington.

FAIR AND SUPPER.

The Ladies' Alliance connected with the Unitarian church, is to hold a fair and supper in the church vestry, Wednesday, February 25, afternoon and evening.

There will be a cake and preserve table, candy, flowers, fancy articles and a mystery table, where articles will be wrapped up and sold for small sums. A special feature will be the Market Tea Booth, where tea will be served and sold by young ladies in Japanese costumes and the whole thing will be very novel.

UNITARIAN CHURCH.

The Ladies' Alliance met as usual with Mrs. Damon, on Broadway, Monday afternoon.

The next literary meeting will be held in the Parish House, Monday afternoon, Feb. 16, at 3 o'clock. Miss Bertha Langmaid will speak on the "Cheerful letter."

Rev. Mr. Gill preached on the "Help of Church Worship" last Sunday morning. The Bible study class will meet this morning, (Thursday), with Mrs. Homer on Pleasant street, subject, "Paul."

"Let me get over this difficulty somehow," says youth, "that I may play the game of life well,"—and our hair is turning gray before we learn that the difficulty is the game.

Editor—"You haven't mentioned the bridegroom's name in this wedding story of yours."

Reporter—"O, yes, I have. I've got him down 'among those present.'"

ARLINGTON.

Remember Flat Laundry work only 25c per dozen—Pattee.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. McKenna of Fairview avenue, Friday, Jan. 23.

Mrs. William A. Muller has been entertaining Miss Adelaide L. Cutter of Bangor, Me.

Mrs. Nancy A. E. Peck died at the home of her niece, Mrs. W. G. Rolfe, on Irving street. Prayers were said Sunday at 3 o'clock and the burial was on Monday, at Orleans, Mass.

First Sergt. Samuel T. Sinclair, recently chosen second lieutenant of the Roxbury Horse Guards, was formerly a resident of Arlington, his boyhood years being spent in Arlington where he received his early education.

Mrs. Rosella Brown, sister of Mrs. Russell Teel, who before her death lived in the old home on Massachusetts avenue, is seriously ill in Whitman where she has resided for the past year.

Mr. Flitner, who makes his home with his sister, Mrs. H. B. Rollins of Mystic street has been ill with inflammatory rheumatism but is improving.

James A. Bailey has been drawn grand juror for the County court commencing Feb. 8 and Fred V. Brilain and Thos. F. Welch, traverse jurors for the term coming in Feb. 16 at East Cambridge.

The second in the series of entertainments under the auspices of the Arlington Heights Methodist Episcopal church, will take place in Town hall this evening, (Thursday), February 5, and will be a lecture entitled "The Shoeing Circuit," by Rev. Arthur Page Sharp of Somerville.

Let Pattee take your Laundry work once for trial.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Devereaux of Arlington announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Blanche, to Mr. Stephen Haines Plum, Jr., Princeton, '01, of Newark, New Jersey.

Derby's "D" was received late last week by telephone and in the rush of going to press several errors crept into it which would have been a serious impression of his office hours. With the exception of two evenings his office will be open from 8 to 8 daily although appointments may be made for other hours.

It was an innocent bunch of bald headed benedicts that attended the Howard last Monday evening, and they are laughing and congratulating themselves that their respective "better-halves" are probably thinking of their various "business engagements" each had in Boston that evening without the remotest suspicion of their real whereabouts, but the wife of one of them is "onto" their little game and offered their names for publication, but the Enterprise will not be the cause of any family jars or hair pulling matches, and cannot conscientiously call names.

Much excitement prevailed on Mystic street, about three o'clock on Friday, when a car of coke which was being backed up to the platform side of Peirce and Winn's came too far. Owing to too much power the car was backed so the forward truck fell to the ground leaving part of the car suspended in mid air. Men were at once on the scene and boarded the space off so no one could venture too near, and employees started to run back the car, after the coke was removed. Beside slight damage to the car the platform was hurt but little.

At the annual meeting of the Building Fund Association in G. A. R. hall on Friday evening, the old officers were re-elected as follows: President, Mrs. Nellie M. Farmer; vice-president, Mrs. George H. Rugg; secretary, Mrs. Geo. H. Thayer; treasurer, Mrs. Winfield Durgin. A dinner was prepared by Mrs. James A. Marden and whist occupied the afternoon. On February 25, occurs the "Gentlemen's Night" in Grand Army hall.

On Sunday morning the bell on the new Baptist Church rang for the first time. It has been so long since a bell has rung in this vicinity, it pealed forth unusual glad tidings on the Sabbath stillness. The bell is the gift of Mrs. H. H. Kohlstat of Chicago, only child of Mr. E. Nelson Blake, and is given in loving memory of her mother, Mrs. E. Nelson Blake and brother, Mr. E. Nelson Blake, Jr. It was manufactured by the Meneely Company of West Troy, N. Y., weighs five thousand pounds, and cost between thirteen and fourteen hundred dollars. It has a very sweet tone and is a very heavy bell.

There was a demonstration and lunch served by ladies from the Shredded Wheat Company in the vestry of the Pleasant street Congregational church, Monday afternoon at 1.30. A number of ladies were present and the lunch was very dainty and inviting. The lecture on cooking was very interesting as well as instructive, and a vote of thanks was given to the ladies who served the lunch. Following there was a business meeting of the Bradshaw Missionary society, the secretary's report read, and the thankofferings which each lady brought in an envelope with a verse, were opened, and found to contain $26.50. It was voted to send $20 of this to Rev. Mr. Tead, secretary of the Congregational Educational society, for his work of establishing academies on the plains and in rural districts of the West.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.

Miss Nellie M. Farmer is once more able to be about the house.

Sidney Birch and family sailed last week for Liverpool, England.

Miss Dora Parsons has been visiting her aunt at Manchester, N. H.

Mr. Jean Nourse is ill with grippe at his home on Lowell street.

Miss Cora Thompson is still confined to the house through illness.

Miss Martha A. Prouty spent Sunday with her parents at Cohasset.

Miss Dora Parsons came home last Saturday from a two weeks visit in Manchester, N. H.

Mrs. Albert Kimball entertained the Sunshine Club, at her home, No. 16 Swan Place, Arlington, Wednesday afternoon.

Postmaster Blanchard's window looks very inviting with an array of valentines and small wares.

Lawton & Prebble's new grocery in the Crescent Building, is now connected by phone. The number is 121-2.

Friends of letter carrier Andrews are pleased to hear of his improved condition, although he is still confined to his home, but hopes soon to be again on duty.

The Friday Literary Club will meet with Mrs. Dr. Sanford on Friday afternoon, February 13, at 2.30 o'clock, when a paper will be read on "China."

Miss Mattie Davidson entertained the Whist Club at her home on Crescent Hill avenue, on Thursday evening. Prizes were won by Millet Lloyd and Helen Kimball. Refreshments were served as usual.

The fog here on Friday night was so dense that it could almost be carved in solid junk, and several old residents (of good standing and strict temperance habits) lost their way in their endeavor to find their homes on their return from town.

Advertised letters at Heights. Week ending Jan. 31. E. W. Griener, Michael Gardoci, Mrs. P. J. Schmidt, Kate Healy, Miss D. A. Luara, J. R. McHardy, Mrs. G. M. O'Neill, The Misses Storrow and Delaney, Mrs. E. H. Simmons, Theodore Seudder.

On Friday evening, Miss Louise J. Cooper entertained a company of friends at her home on Westminster avenue, she was assisted by her sister Miss Ethel. Guests were present from Weston, Chelsea and Arlington, and Miss Cooper proved a congenial and informal hostess, making nothing lack to prove the evening an enjoyable one. Games were indulged in and dainty refreshments served.

While Mr. Lawton was delivering groceries on Aerial street, leaving his horse on Forest street, the animal somehow became frightened and when his master arrived on the scene he found the horse in a ditch eight feet below the street. He at once released the horse from the harness and found no harm was done, not even to the team which remained on the street. It will no doubt be a long day before the animal will forget his experience.

A gentleman living here at the Heights, secured lately, on his own account a carload of Pennsylvania anthracite coal (thirty tons) direct from the mines. He sold all that he did not want himself to a few of his friends at the price which it cost him, which was about $7.50 a ton. The car was sent by way of Lowell, possibly to avoid complications in Boston. This shows what can and should be done, and if more people followed this plan the coal-dealers would soon come to their senses.

Since the opening of Lawton and Preble's new grocery store on January 16, business has been brisk, although the firm has had much to contend with, as all the pipes in the building are frozen and also those leading from the street to the store. They carry a choice line of groceries, the stock is all perfectly fresh, and the store has a clean and inviting appearance. On Friday afternoon of last week a telephone was installed which will insure prompt delivery. The firm has been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. H. T. Welch as butcher in their meat department who was formerly in business on Massachusetts avenue, at the store now occupied by Wm. H. Murray & Co.

ARLINGTON WOMAN'S CLUB.

The next meeting of the club is called for to-day (Thursday) February 5th, in Associates Hall at 3 o'clock, the subject being "Old French Music" by Helen A. Brooks.

YOUNG MEN'S LEAGUE.

There was a special meeting of the Young Men's League Thursday evening last when important business was transacted. The interest in basket ball is steadily increasing. The League is soon to play a game with a local team when it is expected an entertainment will be included, as plans for the same are being made. Success for this can only be obtained by hard work on the part of the players and a generous patronage on the part of the public. At this meeting also, the subject of the "Ladies Auxiliary," was discussed but the vote was not passed as many were not in favor.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS BAPTIST CHURCH.

Sunday morning the pastor preached on "Ruth's Choice," and gave the hand of fellowship to three new members. A considerable number were present, and the ordinance communion celebrated after the service. Sunday evening the former pastor Rev. A. W. Lorimer officiated, and many of his old acquaintances listened to his sermon. The chorus choir sang and the vestry was full.

PARK AVENUE CHURCH.

At the morning service Rev. J. G. Taylor preached, his text being from Psalm 84, verse 7. The choir sang two selections in a very acceptable style. There was a very large attendance.

There was a large attendance at the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening. Ed. Nicoli led, the subject being "Decide today." As last Sunday was the twenty-second anniversary of Christian Endeavor work, Mr. Nicoli gave a brief review of the results obtained by this society, and read the message from President Roosevelt to the Christian Endeavor Society for this anniversary. This was the monthly consecration meeting and the roll was read.

The standing committee of the church met at Mr. C. T. Parsons of Claremont avenue, and transacted the usual order of business.

Teacher—"Johnnie, this is the worst composition in the class, and I'm going to write to your father and tell him."
Johnnie—"Don't keef if ye do; he wrote it fer me."

DR. G. W. YALE.

DENTIST,

14-16 POST OFFICE BUILDING, Massachusetts Ave., Arlington.

O. H. GANNETT,

CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR.

Room 112, Exchange Building, 58 State St., Boston. Telephone 3854
Residence, Academy St., Arlington.

WHILE WAITING FOR THE TRAIN OR THE MAIL YOU WILL HAVE PLENTY OF TIME FOR A STYLISH HAIR CUT OR A CLEAN SHAVE AT

RONCO'S, THE BARBER

P. O. Block, near Depot. Oldest Established Barber Shop in town.

Every Appointment First-class.

WANTED. Second hand box camera. Send price and full particulars to H. S. Enterprise Office.

WANTED. Second hand bedroom, kitchen, or dining room chairs. Small ones preferred—any amount. Also second hand camp chairs for cash. Address, K. 8 Beacon street, Arlington ROOM TO LET. Desirably furnished and centrally located. A. B. C. Enterprise Office.

FURNISHED ROOMS TO RENT. All modern improvements, hot and cold water. Furnace heat. Desirable location. Near electric light housekeeping permitted. Mrs. Fernoy, 25 Linwood street.

ROOM TO RENT. Large and sunny room with two beds suitable for two gentlemen. Centrally located and nicely furnished. Bath. Address, XVI, Box 126, Arlington.

TENEMENT TO LET.

Four rooms, bath, hot and cold water, cemented cellar. Price reasonable. Apply to G. W. KENTY, 1300 Massachusetts Ave., Arlington Heights.

TENEMENTS WANTED.

We have applicants for several Small Tenements. Parties having such will do well to place same in our care.

ROBINSON & HENDRICKS,

Associates Block.

FRED W. DERBY

REFRACTING OPTICIAN

Announces the opening of his new optical office

12 Post Office Building

on or about Feb. 1st, formerly at 458 Massachusetts Avenue.

Hours: Tuesday and Thursday 9 to 6, other days 9 to 8, other hours by appointment.

TELEPHONE CONNECTIONS.

People who live in . . . Glass Houses

or merchants who have large plate glass windows should carry a reasonable amount of insurance to protect them from such accidents as recently occurred at Arlington Heights. We write all kinds of insurance in the best companies at the most reasonable rates. Come and see us.

ROBINSON & HENDRICKS,

REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE. Associates' Bldg., Arlington, Mass.

WAVERLEY HALL STORE.
Groceries and Provisions - - -
- - - Meats and Poultry
Gold Medal and Pillsbury's Best Flour,
A Fine Line of Tea and Coffee.
JAMES E. FLAGG.
WAVERLEY, MASS.

C. S. SCOTT
Bank Building, Waverley.
BELMONT and WAVERLEY REAL ESTATE
MORTGAGES, INSURANCE,—all kinds
... NOTARY PUBLIC ...
Waverley Office of Belmont Bulletin.
Subscriptions and Advertisements Received.
Telephone, Arlington 138-2.

LINCOLN PARK DAIRY.
C. B. NEEDHAM, PROPRIETOR.
Pure Milk, Cream and Butter.
Tested cows, sanitary stables, pure water and feed make our milk especially desirable.
We have the best goods and solicit the best trade.
Also till Jan. 1st, 1903, fresh killed Chicken and Fowl.
Orders may be left with F. N. LaBonte, Belmont.
ADDRESS: BOX 124, WAVERLEY, MASS.

For Everything BEST in Photographic Work go to
PACH'S STUDIO.
Telephone 734-3. 1181 MASSACHUSETTS AVE., CAMBRIDGE.
FOR ALL OTHER CLASSES OF WORK, GO ELSEWHERE.

Waverley Cafe. H. D. ROGERS, Prop.
BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY TERMINUS.
Lunches to Order. Hot Coffee and Chocolate. Choice Confectionery. Cigars and Tobacco. Ferguson's Bread and Pastry. Boston Elevated Railway Waiting Room.
ALL DAILY AND SUNDAY NEWSPAPERS. WE ALSO SELL THE BELMONT BULLETIN AND ENTERPRISE.

WALTER I. FULLER, ELECTRICIAN.
Formerly with R. W. LeBaron,
ARLINGTON and EAST LEXINGTON,
Electric Work of Every Description. Electric Lights, Bells, Gas Lighting, Burglar Alarms, Telephones, Speaking Tubes. All work promptly attended to.
Repair shop at residence at East Lexington.
Bicycles, Lawn Mowers, Sewing Machines, Locks etc., Cleaned and Repaired. Keys Fitted and General Jobbing.
Send postal and I will call.

JOHNSON'S ARLINGTON EXPRESS.
J. H. EDWARDS, Proprietor,
Member of the Expressmen's League.
MAIN OFFICE, MONUMENT VIEW HOUSE, OPP. SOLDIERS' MONUMENT, ARLINGTON.
Boston Order Box Faneuil Hall Market.
Baggage checked to all depots and steamboat wharves or transferred to destination.
If you have any Expressing, Piano or Furniture Moving to do, please give us a call.
We have the largest business and can give better results than any other express in Arlington. Tel. 122-3 Arlington.
Two Trips Daily. Teams Due at 4.30 and 6.30 P. M.

ADVERTISE
Why Certainly You Can Rid Your House of Water Bugs and Roaches if You Use . . .
Barnard's Water Bug and Roach Exterminator.
ITS WARRANTED. SOLD EVERYWHERE. BY MAIL 50c.
BARNARD & CO., 7 Temple Place

BELMONT CHURCHES.
ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH, BELMONT.—Fr's: Mass, 8.30, Second Mass, 10.30 on Sundays and Holy days of obligation. Week days, Mass at 10.30 Sunday School, 9.30. Vesper service, Sunday evening at 8.
FIRST PARISH CHURCH, BELMONT.—Rev. George H. Reed, Pastor.
WAVERLEY UNITARIAN SOCIETY.—Rev. C. A. Allen, pastor. Services every Sunday morning at 10.45. Sunday School at 12 m. All invited.
WAVERLEY BAPTIST SOCIETY.—Rev. A. B. McLeod, Pastor. Services in Waverley Hall, Sunday School 12.15 p. m. Franchising Service 1.15 p. m. Regular Weekly Prayer-meeting, chancel at 7.30.
CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, WAVERLEY.—Rev. G. F. Gilman, Pastor. Morning service 10.45, Sunday School 12 m., Young People's Society Christian Endeavor 6.15 p. m., Evening service 7.15. Weekly prayer-meeting in vestry Fridays at 7.30 p. m.
ALL SAINTS' CHURCH, (Episcopal)—Belmont, Rev. Canon and Clark Sts., Rev. Reginald H. One Rector. Morning Service and Sermon at 10.30 a. m., Sunday School at 12 m.; Congregational Bible Class at Parish Rooms on Pleasant St. at 5 p. m.
PLYMOUTH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, BELMONT.—Rev. Elbridge C. Whiting, Pastor. Morning service 10.30 a. m., Sunday School 12 m., Evening Praise 7. Weekly prayer meeting, Friday 7.45 p. m.
BELMONT LODGE, A. F. & A. M., meets on the first Thursday of each month, at Masonic Hall Belmont.

BELMONT FIRE ALARM.
1. No school.
2. Concord Ave., near Myrtle St.
3. Cor. School and Godea Sts.
4. Cor. Clark and Thomas Sts.
5. Cor. Waverley and Common Sts.
6. Concord Ave., (Opposite E. F. Atkins, Hose House)
7. Cor. Pleasant and Clifton Sts.
8. Prospect St.
9. Cor. Pleasant and Brighton Sts.
10. Cross St.
11. Brighton St. near Hill's Crossing depot.
12. Cor. Church and North Sts.
13. Cor. Common and Washington Sts.
14. Belmont St. cor. Oxford.
15. Cor. School and Washington Sts.
16. Grove St.
17. Town Farm.
18. Waverley St.
19. Cor. Lexington, and Beech Sts.
20. Cor. Church and North Sts.
21. White and Maple Sts.
22. Mill St. near J. S. Kendall
23. Trapelo Road, Agassiz St.
24. Spring Lane
25. School St. near Hittinger
One blow for test, at 6.55 a. m., 4.55 p. m.
Two blows when fire is all out.
D. S. MCCABE, Chief,
H. H. RUSSELL,
E. PRICE,
JOHN LEONARD, Engineers.

REMINISCENCES OF THE CIVIL WAR.

Mr. C. A. Jordan, a veteran of the Civil War, Volunteer in the 16th Maine Regiment gives us the following:
We were quartered on the Rappahannock. It was before Christmas. The whole division started for Mine Run. We took three days' rations and had to travel about eighty miles. We only had a little skirmish. It wasn't intended to be a great battle, only to call off the enemy from where they were stationed. We were gone eight days on three days' rations. I made out to get a little corn I stole from a donkey and a piece of hard-tack. These had to do me till we got back.
Night before Christmas it rained and froze some. Of course we had to sleep on the ground. The next morning my hair was frozen down and I got a comrade to cut it with his knife. Another fellow and I wanted some milk, so started off to the house nearest to where our army was quartered that night. The woman said she would let us have some if we would sleep in her barn that night and guard it against army plunderers. Said she would give us each a quart of milk in the morning. We were very willing to do that as we would get a better bed than anywhere else. In the night along came our men and took all the feed she had and left us to sleep on the bare boards. We got our milk next morning, but we paid for it.
In speaking of fear that one would suppose a soldier might have when about to face a battle; when once engaged in action the fear is all taken away.
When we went into battle we watched for an Orderly to come. They always come driving along, then turn round quick, and the word was given, forward, march.
We always had such a feeling when we saw the wounded brought to the rear.
In one battle we were lying close to the ground before a raking fire. An Irishman was lying near. Pretty soon a shell exploded right behind him. He looked over his shoulder and said, "bejabbers that's the place for me. Lightning never strikes in the same place but once," and down he got into the hole.
Once we were going along by some huts, and there were five or six black women and girls standing out watching us. A Frenchman says to the man marching with him, "Here, hold my gun a minute." The fellow took his gun and he went up and began kissing the women. He kissed all round and that made all hands laugh.
I tell you I was mad when I was ordered by the Rebels to give up my clothes. It was when we were taken prisoners at Petersburg. I had a new rubber blanket. So I took out my jack knife and began cutting it. The Reb sung out, "Here you, stop that. Yank, or I'll shoot you," and began taking out his revolver. I stopped, for I knew what would come next. I had a couple of tin dishes. They would not allow us to keep but one, so I kept the little pail and that served me through the five months I was in prison and brought it home as a relic of prison life. It used to answer for water pail, drinking dish, kettle and bean pot.
The last thing I ate before going down to Salisbury was a hard cracker. It was on Friday. I did not have anything till Tuesday. Were a sorry looking set when we left Petersburg for Salisbury. When we reached there I was ordered with the rest to take off my pants and was given a pair of old gray ones to put on.
My blanket, coats, knife and all, I surrendered. We were taken into prison not knowing when we should get out again. We began building little booths to shelter us from the cool nights with what we could find to pick up round, for we were out in the open air. Some of the boys dug holes in the ground so as to crawl in and lie down.
Corn and cobs ground together made a very poor kind of meal, but it was given us. A pint of beans and a bit of pork with the meal was our rations for a week. If we got anything else it would be from the stall or settlers near the prison. Some managed to make bone jewelry to sell to the settlers to get their meat and bread. That was how I ever got through that prison alive, for it was a terrible winter, with little or no clothing on and some of the poor fellows without any shirts to their backs.
A good many of the prisoners would write letters home and pass them out, thinking they would be sent, but they were only thrown into a hoghead and left, and the poor boys anxiously waiting for answers.
It was no new thing to get up in the morning and find twenty or thirty fellows dead, died during the night. Their clothes were eagerly taken from their emaciated bodies to cover some other's nakedness. When Lee surrendered our parole came and we were discharged. Mrs. P. P. Curtis.

The scratch of a pin may cause the loss of a limb or even death when blood poisoning results from the injury. All danger of this may be avoided, however, by promptly applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It is an antiseptic and quick healing liniment for cuts, bruises and burns. For sale by Laing's Drug store, corner of Main and Spring streets.

The fewest words that will convey the advertiser's ideas are the right ones.—Horace Greeley.

Woman's Column

SELECTIONS FROM DIFFERENT WRITERS ARRANGED FOR THE ENTERPRISE.

What fairy palaces we may build of beautiful thoughts, proof against all adversity, bright fancies, satisfied memories, faithful sayings; treasure houses of precious and restful thoughts, which care cannot disturb, nor pain make gloomy, nor poverty take away from us—houses built without hands for our souls to live in.—John Ruskin.

To be glad of life because it gives you the chance to love and to work and to play and to look up at the stars; to be satisfied with your possessions, but not contented with yourself until you have made the best of them—to think seldom of your enemies, often of your friends, and every day of Christ—these are the little guide-posts to the foot-path of peace.—Henry Van Dyke.

We can always find abundant cause for thanksgiving if we so desire. Just as some find it easy to murmur and complain if the smallest speck of cloud appears in their great heaven of blue. If we should thank God for all His goodness to us our whole lives would be spent in thanksgiving, for every moment brings to us some blessing for which we should be thankful.—J. N. Hallock, D. D.

Remember that your work comes only moment by moment, and as surely as God calls you to it, He gives the strength to do it. Each moment, as you need it, the strength will come, only do not look forward an hour; circumstances may be different from what you expect. At any rate you will be borne through each needful and right thing. Do not worry yourself with misgivings. Take each thing quietly as possible.—Priscilla Maurice.

Why do we heap huge mounds of years Before us and behind. And scorn the little days that pass Like angels on the wind! Each turning round a small, sweet face As beautiful as near. Because it is so small a face We will not see it clear: And so it turns from us, and goes Away in sad disdain; Though we would give our lives for it. It never comes again.—Miss Mulock.

SHIRT WAIST BOXES.

Girls nowadays are turning their attention to the careful keeping of their wearing apparel; and among the many novel conveniences of this sort none is more practical and withal often more artistic, than shirt waist boxes. These boxes are made of wood, cretonne covered, and padded inside and redolent, of course, with one's favorite sachet. The box must be amply large, that the shirt waists be not crushed, and as they are collected (and shirt waist collections are quite the thing now) they are carefully laid therein to be kept dainty and immaculate and ready for wear.

Many girls who have leisure are making their own shirt waists, and to her who has any aptitude at all for needle-work, it proves eminently more satisfactory than to pay large sums to have them made, for one can be sure then of having one's own ideas carried out, and may put any amount of work into them. After all, it's quite as much the way one gets into a shirt waist as, in fact, might be said of clothes in general, that gives one a smart appearance as in the material and style in which they are made.

LEATHER AT THE THROAT.

Leather fobs carrying a metal monogram or a design in baroque pearls or rhinestones are now worn at the collar, fastened with a knotted thong of leather about the throat, and strongly remind one of the tags worn by poodles.

COLUMBIA THEATRE.

This popular house will reopen on Monday Feb. 2 with a brilliant musical comedy "The Little Host" with an all star cast of Boston favorites including Alexander Clark, John C. Slavin, J. K. Murray, Hugh Childers, Frank H. Nelson, Isabelle Underwood, Clara Lane, Pauline Chase, Selma Mantell, Genevieve Reynolds, Emily Francis, Grace Spencer, and numerous, charming, well trained chorus. The characters are mostly Bohemians of New York.

A CARD.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cents bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

SULLIVAN DRUG STORE.
S. F. BLACK.
G. F. BUTLER.
W. A. CLAPPIN & Co.
ARTHUR LANG.

IF YOU WANT THE BEST WORK HAVE YOUR
Feathers Blankets
Gloves Carpets
Laces Rugs
Clothing of all Kinds
Cleansed or Dyed at Lewando's
CARPETS TAKEN UP BEATEN CLEANSSED OR DYED AND PUT DOWN

Have Your Linen Laundered in Our Laundry Department
Telephones in all offices Teams in all suburbs
WATERTOWN OFFICE 9 Galen Street
AND WORKS
FRENCH CLEANSERS FANCY DYERS
FINE LAUNDERERS

ALL GOODS DELIVERED FREE OF CHARGE AT RESIDENCES IN WATERTOWN

John H. Pray & Sons Co.
Oldest and Largest Carpet House in New England
EXCLUSIVE DESIGNS IN
Wilton and Brussels Carpets
Oriental and Domestic Rugs
Upholstery Fabrics
We have the largest stock in Boston, and show an endless variety of all grades of carpets and draperies. Prices always moderate.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.
Pray Building, Washington St., opp. Boylston
Boston
REPRESENTED IN WATERTOWN AND VICINITY BY JAMES D. KELLY OF WALTHAM.

Literary Notes

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY.

The February number of the Atlantic opens with an article on Sensational Journalism and the Law, President Arthur T. Hadley contributes an important article upon Academic Freedom in Theory and Practice. M. A. DeW. Howe furnishes the first of a delightful series on Some Episodes of Boston Commerce. Canon H. D. Rawnsley follows his former article by one entitled, With the Pre-Dynastic Kings. J. T. Trowbridge's article on My First Experience as a Writer, his unsatisfactory adventures in New York, and his finding in Boston a better literary atmosphere; and A. S. Hardy in His Daughter First, begins to unfold the plot of his entertaining story. Many short stories, followed by poems, and an unusually sprightly and variegated Contributors' Club, closes the number.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE

Castle Square Theatre patrons are to have another opportunity of seeing the dramatic version of Anthony Hope's story, "The Adventure of Lady Ursula," next week, and a repetition of the success attending the original production of this play, by the Castle Square stock company of three years ago, may be confidently anticipated. The title part made one of Miss Lillian Lawrence's greatest triumphs in her Boston career when she first appeared in it, and so many of the other characters are given to members of the present company, who were not identified with the earlier performances of the play, that there will be quite an element of novelty in this revival.

Following "The Adventure of Lady Ursula" on Monday, Feb. 16, comes a production of "The Parish Priest." The usual distribution of boxes of chocolate bonbons will be made at the Monday matinee.

LARGEST AND BEST STOCK OF FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC FRUIT

IN ARLINGTON AT Salvatore Trani's
479 MASSACHUSETTS AVE.
Nuts and Confectionery for the Holiday Trade.
ADVERTISE IN THE ENTERPRISE

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
COURT OF LAND REGISTRATION.

To Edward B. Eaton, of Newton in the County of Middlesex and said Commonwealth, Trustee under the will of Caroline I. Whitney, deceased, and John I. Merritt now or formerly of New York in the State of New York, or his heirs, devisees or legal representatives, and to all whom it may concern:
Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by Albert B. Hall, of Watertown in said County of Middlesex, to register and confirm his title in the following described land—A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in said Watertown, and bounded: Northeastly by Main street, eighty and 25.100 (80.25) feet; Northwestly by land of Edward R. Eaton, Trustee under the will of Caroline I. Whitney, one hundred twenty-three and 60.140 (123.60) feet; Southwestly by a private way seventy-nine and 43.100 (79.43) feet; Southeastly by Cuba street one hundred thirty-one and 90.100 (131.90) feet; containing 10169 square feet of land.
You are hereby cited to appear at the Court of Land Registration, to be held at Boston, in said County of Suffolk, on the sixteenth day of February, A. D. 1903, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.
Witness, LEONARD A. JONES, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of January in the year nineteen hundred and three.
Attest with Seal of said Court. [SEAL]
CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by John K. Abbott to Mabel A. Sweeney, dated March 25th, 1896, and recorded in the Registry of Deeds for the County of Middlesex South District, book 2446, page 314, will be sold at Public Auction, on the premises, on MONDAY, the SIXTEENTH DAY OF FEBRUARY 1903, at two o'clock, in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted. And unless you appear at said Court at the time and place aforesaid your default will be recorded, and the said petition will be taken as confessed, and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.
Witness, LEONARD A. JONES, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this sixteenth day of January in the year nineteen hundred and three.
Attest with Seal of said Court. [SEAL]
CLARENCE C. SMITH, Recorder.

BEVERLY SAVINGS BANK,
Assignee and present holder of said mortgage.
January 21st, 1903.
Boydin, Bradlee & Twombly, Attorneys, 60 State Street, Boston.

SHORT HAND
At the Hickock's Short-hand School, Copley Sq., Boston.
The leading and largest exclusively Short-hand School in the United States. Send for prospectus containing 500 illustrations.

THE PERENNIAL BOY.

The world is continually learning how much human nature is alike, under whatever variety of color or clime it may be found. There is very little difference after all, when you get below the skin. The mother and father heart are the same in all lands. Tenderness and nobility of soul are found beneath the roughest and meanest exterior and where least expected. What in sounding terms is called the solidarity of the race is being more and more realized. Individual selfishness, religious exclusiveness, racial antipathies must give way, and are giving way before the spreading light of truth and warmth of love.

While we recognized the common brotherhood of the race on every shore and under every sky, it is not always easy to feel the unity of humankind through all the ages. It is difficult to believe that the men and women and children of two thousand or four thousand years ago, despite their outward differences from us, moulded of the very same clay as ourselves.

In the oasis of Fayen, in Egypt, about sixty miles west of Cairo, during some recent excavations, while no classical manuscripts have been exhumed, some very interesting finds have been made. Witness this letter of a boy to his father, written 2000 years ago:

"Theon to his father, Theon, greeting! 'It was a fine thing of you not to take me to the city! If you would take me with you to Alexandria, I won't write you a letter or speak to you, or say goodbye to you; and if you go to Alexandria I won't greet you or take your hand again. That is what will happen if you won't take me. Mother said to Archelaus, 'It quite upsets him to be left behind!' It was good of you to send me presents the day you sailed. Send me a lyre. If you don't, I don't eat, I won't drink; there now!"

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin." We think we know that boy Theon. He is not so much unlike the Toms and Charlies and Harrys of to-day. Beneath the playful impudence of his letter, we think we can read, after all, the story of a happy home, of tender affection, of a delightful bond of confidence and love between parents and children. It would help us in commerce and politics as well as in missions, to see a brother in each fellow-man.

POST OFFICE

Open from 6.45 A. M. to 8 P. M.

Arrival and Departure of Mails.

Open at	Close at
8.00 a. m., Northern	7.00 a. m., Boston
30 a. m., Boston	7.30 a. m., Boston
15 p. m., Boston	10.30 a. m., Northern
2.40 p. m., Boston	12.30 p. m., Boston
4.00 p. m., Northern	3.30 p. m., Boston
4.30 p. m., Boston	6.00 p. m., Northern
6.40 p. m., Boston	7.55 p. m., Boston
7.10 p. m., Boston

SUNDAY.—Mail arrives 1.30 p. m.; Close 4.00 p. m. Office open from 2 to 3 p. m.

LEONARD A. SAVILLE, Postmaster.

WARNER'S Arlington EXPRESS, ARLINGTON AND ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.

Boston Office 32 and 38 Court Square, Arlington L. D. Bradley's Hardware Store Order Box at 37 Faneuil Hall Market. Goods received for Arlington and Arlington Heights until 4 p. m. at 32 and 38 Court Square.

Down to Death

from using morphine, whiskey and tobacco. You can be easily cured at home with a small amount. Treatment is painless. Address, G. Wilson, Palestine, Texas.

A REPUTATION For First Class Service, is my constant aim

Hack and . . Livery Stable

GEO. A. LAW,

First-Class Board. Prices Right. . . .

MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE, ARLINGTON.

ARLINGTON HOUSE.

ARLINGTON, MASS.

J. C. RAUCH, Proprietor.

Accommodations for transients and table boarders. Stable connected. Telephone 66-2.

Consumption

—CURED—

DEAD EASILY

By Great Filipino Remedy. Proof Free from

G. Wilson, Palestine, Texas.

Why Eat Impoverished Food when you can have ARLINGTON WHEAT MEAL Made into Perfect Bread or used as a Cereal, in the form of a mush it is the ideal Muscle, Brain and Nerve Food. Send Postal for Booklet. Fowle's Arlington Mills, Arlington, Mass

We are Rich

In experience, and experience is often harder to get than gold.

Years of Experience

In the tonsorial business has fitted us for your service. When you want a stylish hair cut or a clean and pleasant shave, don't forget

J. E. DUFFY, The Barber, Over Upham's Market, ARLINGTON, MASS.

BELMONT.

Prof. A. L. Merrill of Hillside avenue, Payson Park, has been ill this week with appendicitis.

The Woman's Alliance held its regular meeting this week Monday, and listened to a paper prepared by Lucia M. Peabody.

The next meeting of the Belmont Musical Club will be held at the residence of Miss H. J. Sargent, Monday, Feb. 16th.

The prayer meeting of the Plymouth Congregational church was held this week at the residence of Mr. Hadley on Moore street.

The three children of Mr. Luke H. Comeau, of Ash street have recovered from the serious attack of scarlet fever which occasioned their removal to the Waltham Hospital.

Miss Emily M. Richardson and her aunt Mrs. Wm. Dodge are planning a trip to Europe in the latter part of March to be abroad about six months.

Last Wednesday, at the regular session of the High School Literary and Debating society, the program was presented by the Reds.

Friday afternoon was the annual indoor meet of the B. H. S. Literary and Debating society with contests in high jump, broad jump, vault and potato race between the Reds and the Blues.

The regular meeting of the Belmont Aid Society will be held on Monday afternoon, February 2d at 2 o'clock in the rooms of the Belmont Club, on Leonard Street. Business meeting will be called at 3 o'clock.

The High School Literary and Debating Society will discuss at its first meeting in February the question of the advisability of Municipal Coal Yards.

The fire engineers request that in case of a fire any person in telephoning communicate with the hose house at Belmont to acquaint the department with the facts, if possible, before the regular signals are given.

An entertainment entitled "Songs Illustrated by Living Pictures" with character sketches by Mr. Stedman, was given for the benefit of All Saints Church, in the Town Hall, Friday evening. The affair was under the auspices of the musical committee of the church.

The match games at the Belmont Club will begin again in February. Prizes for the fall tournaments will be awarded at an early date. The averages on bowling and handicaps on billiards and pool will be figured as far as possible on the results of the last season.

The second of the series of concerts at the Belmont Club house was given last Tuesday evening, Jan. 27. The Belmont Orchestral Club furnished the program, which was as follows: Toreador, Two-step march, by Monckton; Calanthe Waltz, by Holzman; San Toy Selection, by Sidney Jones; Trombone Solo from Bohemian Girl arranged by Zolani. Marches, Sally in Our Alley and Y. N. I., by Klorh. The above numbers were rendered by the entire club except the last two, which were played by Edward Meisel. Dancing followed till about ten o'clock.

WAVERLEY.

Mrs. H. M. Mc A. Tolar is planning a trip to the South.

E. N. Peirce sailed for Bermuda this week Friday.

Robert S. Burbank has been confined to the house with a lame leg.

Mrs. H. I. Bruce and son have returned to Boston from their trip to England.

A. L. Burdakin has a hen which recently laid an egg measuring seven and a quarter inches in circumference.

Mrs. N. A. Currier of Brookline Mass., has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Geo. T. Chipman, of Lexington street.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church, met at Mrs. Harrie E. Carpenter's last Wednesday afternoon.

It is reported that there are to be some houses put up at Trapelo Heights Park this spring.

Mrs. Ball of Hawthorn street, is slowly recovering from a protracted illness which has kept her in her house all winter.

The Waverley Hall company are making alterations in the chimney of the hall. The steam heater is now again in order.

The Congregational church expect to return to their church building for all their regular services after next Sunday, Feb. 1st.

Mr. C. S. Scott attended the thirtieth annual meeting of the Sons of Brown university of Boston and vicinity at Young's hotel, Boston, Wednesday evening.

Robert Edgar of Trapelo Road, recently celebrated his twenty-first birthday with a large company of his friends, at his home. A delightful occasion was experienced.

The last union meeting of the Unitarian and Congregational churches will be held next Sunday morning, Rev. Mr. Allen preaching the sermon.

John C. Davies of Weymouth, formerly of Waverley, was in town this week looking up old acquaintances.

Mr. C. D. Thomas with Mr. C. H. Houlihan on White street, has just received a carload of dry, hard wood, which he is delivering at $9.50 per cord.

The sermon of Rev. Mr. Gilman at the union service last Sunday was on the value of religious worship, taking as his text the 120th psalm. Rev. Mr. Allen assisted at the service.

C. A. Stimson of Waverley street, advertises his household goods for sale on Feb. 2. It is understood that he purposes removing to California for his health.

Julius G. Barnes died at the McLean Hospital last Saturday, in his 69th year. The funeral services were held at his late residence in West Somerville, Tuesday, and the interment was at West Derby, Vt.

The "Little Helpers" met with May Scott, on Davis street, this week, to work for their coming fair.

The house formerly owned by C. J. Smith on Lexington street, has been sold by the Waverley Co-operative Bank to Thomas H. Gibson, of Agassiz Avenue, who will occupy it with his family in February.

Miss Mary Welsh, eldest daughter of Maurice Welsh, of Sycamore street, died at her home after a long illness, last Saturday afternoon. The funeral was held at St. Joseph's church, Belmont, Monday morning, and was attended by a large number of friends of the family.

The young people's union of the Unitarian church met with the President at his home on Lexington street, Friday evening, for a social and business meeting. There are several new members to be received into the Society, and it is in a flourishing condition.

Mr. Wm. B. Richardson spent Wednesday, the Chinese New Year's day, in company with an Episcopal clergyman of the city, in viewing the sights of Chinatown. It was a lurid occasion.

Mr. D. D. Twomey of Sycamore street, has excavated for the foundation of a frame residence for Mrs. Ellen Twomey, on Arlington street, East Watertown, to cost about $5000.

Rev. Charles A. Allen will preach at the union service next Sunday morning, on the subject, "The Lesson of the Day of Pentecost in Reference to Denominational Relations Today," and in the evening at the Young People's meeting at 6.30, Rev. George P. Gilman will speak.

The second social, under the charge of Messrs. A. Melville Morrison and Harry B. Stearns, was held Wednesday evening, the 28th, and attended by a large and pleasant company. Whist was played earlier in the evening, followed by dancing, with Phelps' Orchestra of Cambridge, and a collation was served. The affair was highly enjoyable.

Mrs. John Fisher and her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Arnold of Lexington street, have been seriously ill this week, threatened with pneumonia. In consequence of the illness of Mrs. Fisher the place of meeting for the Young People's Union of the Unitarian church was changed from the president's home to the vestry of the church.

Col. Everett C. Benton was one of the committee of reception for the Vermont Association, at their annual meeting at the Vendome hotel, Boston, last Wednesday evening, and was elected a member of the executive committee of the association for the ensuing year.

An arrangement has been made by Messrs. Russell, Flagg and Gay in the grocery and provision business beginning with next month, to close their respective stores on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays of each week at 6 o'clock in the evening, on Friday at seven o'clock and on Saturdays the stores will be open as usual.

Postmaster Russell holds unclaimed letters, under date of Jan. 24th, addressed to the following persons:—Catherine McGinley, Miss Lilly Phillips, Mr. Earl Adams, A. M. McCard, M. D., and Prof. W. B. McVey (2). Mr. Welsh, the veteran gateman at the Lexington street crossing has been relieved of duty for a few days this week by Mr. Connors.

Mrs. Anne McDermott, of Charlestown, who was a patient at the Convalescent Home of this place about three years ago has brought suit against the surgeon who operated upon her at the Massachusetts General Hospital on account of after effects of the operation. The case was heard by Chief Justice Brown of the Municipal Court, of Boston, this week. As the surgeon's services were gratuitous, a novel question of personal liability from the legal standpoint is involved.

The First Congregational church held its annual business meeting at the church last Wednesday evening, the 28th inst. Mr. Thos. W. Davis was in the chair, and the regular reports and routine business were presented. The year has made a very satisfactory showing, and the outlook is hopeful. A large attendance was present and the election of officers resulted as follows: Clerk, W. R. Lamkin; treasurer, Geo. P. Armstrong; auditor, W. F. Little; prudential committee, Thomas W. Davis, Geo. C. Flett, James W. Baldwin, James W. McCabe and Harrie E. Carpenter.

The February entertainment of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational Church will be held next Wednesday evening, Feb. 4th, at Waverley Hall. The ladies will serve a supper at half-past six, and an interesting program will be given at eight o'clock. The exercises will include Indian club swinging by Miss Emma Houlahan, readings by Mrs. L. T. McKenney, a solo by Miss Mabel Houlahan and the farce "Maidens All Forlorn," with the following cast of characters:—"Maude Meredith," "Elizabeth Lyndon" and "Bertha Barrisdale" (cousins), Misses M. T. Houlahan, M. E. Hatch and M. E. Frost. "Louisa Marston" (their aunt), Miss H. M. Smith, "Mrs. Maloney" (the landlady) Miss M. E. Bateman, "Dr. Denby," (a physician). The entertainment is in charge of Misses Helen Smith, Mildred Houlahan and Mabel Hatch.

FEWER GALLONS: WEARS LONGER.

You can paint a building with fewer gallons of Devco Lead and Zinc than with Mixed Paints, and it will wear twice as long as lead and oil mixed by hand. Sold by F. S. Pillsbury & Co.

"What has made her so haughty and proud?" "She thinks she's a Daughter of the Revolution." "How is that?" "She went round in the Ferris wheel."

ARLINGTON.

Miss Ruth Whitten, daughter of Officer James Whitten, is confined to her home with the grip.

Mrs. Edwin P. Stickney had as her guest last week her sister, Mrs. Nettie Wells Livermore of Yonkers, N. Y.

Rev. S. C. Bushnell was present at the annual meeting and dinner of the Yale club, held at the University club, Boston, and was elected president for the coming year.

Rodney J. Hardy and Miss Hardy are to be "at home" to their friends on the afternoon and evening of February 6, the occasion being Mr. Hardy's 75th birthday.

Friday evening, February 27, the athletic association of the Arlington High school, are to give an entertainment and dance in Town hall, Custer's orchestra will furnish the music.

Miss Pillsbury expected to be back at her school duties this week, but owing to a relapse is still confined to her home on Russell street. The teacher in the sixth grade of Russell school, Miss Pond, has been ill with tonsillitis.

Of the three hundred and twenty towns in Massachusetts the following are the first ten in valuation: Brookline, Milton, Watertown, Hyde Park, Revere, Dedham, Wellesley, Winchester, Arlington, Manchester. Winchester for the first time, goes ahead of Arlington in valuation.—Winchester Star.

ROBBINS LIBRARY.

BULLETIN OF NEW BOOKS.

Barrie, James M. Little white bird; or, adventures in Kensington Gardens.	1712.8
Barry, W. D. D. Papal monarchy from St. Gregory the Great to Boniface VIII. (Story of the nations.)	72.19
Birdsall, Katharine N. *Jacks of all trades and what they did.	1912.1
Brady, Cyrus T. Woven with the ship together with certain other veracious tales of various sorts.	2125.6
Colquhoun, A. R. Mastery of the Pacific.	980.1
Crawford, Francis M. Cecilia, Story of modern Rome.	3100.211
Crothers, Sam'l McC. *Miss Muffet's Christmas party.	1093.278
Daskam, Josephine D. Whom the gods destroyed [and other stories].	32411.4
Davis, Richard, H. Ranson's folly [and other stories].	3267.12
Douglas, Amanda M. *Little girl in old Detroit. (Little girl series.)	3475.213
Sherburne quest. Sequel to Sherburne inheritance.	3475.214
Earle, Alice M. Sun dials and roses of yesterday.	529.2
Everett, C. C. Immortality, and other essays.	204.13
Fiske, J. Essays, historical and literary. 2 v.	3904.63
Frederick, J. W. Century of American locomacy, 1776-1876.	933.6
French, Allen. *Sir Marrok, Tale of the days of King Arthur.	40421.2
Gaborian, Emile. Honor of the name. Sequel to Monsieur Lecoq.	4105.8
Monsieur Lecoq.	4105.7
Gordon, Chas. W. [Ralph Connor] *Glenargy school days.	29654.4
Hale, E. E. Memories of a hundred years. 2 v.	4524.91
Ralph Waldo Emerson. (Also) Two early essays of Emerson.	3696.911
Hamlin, Myra S. *Catharine's proxy.	4596.4
Hawkins, Anthony H. [Anthony Hope.] King's mirror.	4708.12
Howells, W. D. Literature and life: studies.	5180.54
Hutten, Bettina, baroness von. Our lady of the beeches.	5288.1
Kipling, Rudyard. *Just so stories for little children.	1093.277
Knapp, Adeline. *Boy and the baron.	5752.1
Lanier, S. Bob; the story of our mocking-bird.	598.52
English novel.	823.5
Letters, 1866-81.	5855.90
Music and poetry.	780.21
Retrospects and prospects.	5855.50
Science of English verse.	426.1
Lawrence, W. Roger Wolcott.	97015.91
Lee, Mary C. *Lois Mallet's dangerous gift.	5923.4
Lessing, G. E. Dramatic works. 2 v.	5952.30
McCarthy, J. Reign of Queen Anne. 2 v.	46.11
McMaster, J. B. Daniel Webster.	59504.95
Martin, Geo. M. *Emmy Lou: her book and heart.	6463.1
Mathews, A. Ohio and her Western Reserve (Expansion of the republic.)	960.9
Morse, Francis C. Furniture of the olden time.	645.2
Newcomb, S. Astronomy for everybody.	520.14
Norris, Frank. Man's woman.	70835.2
Ollivant, Alfred. Danny.	7144.2
Page, Thomas N. *Captured Santa Claus.	7215.9
Reed, Myrtle. Spinster book.	177.19
Roberts, Chas. G. D. Barbara Ladd.	7911.3
Roosevelt, T. Ranch life and the hunting-trail.	963.34
Savage, M. J. Men and women.	173.22
Stimson, Frederic J. [J. S. of Dale.] Jethro Bacon of Sandwich. (Also) Weaker sex.	8756.7
Stockton, Frank H. John Gaxther's garden—and the stories told therein.	8764.210
Taggart, Marion A. Wyndham girls.	89094.1
Tomlinson, Everett T. *In the Wyoming valley.	9089.23
Old Fort Schuyler.	9089.22
Washington, B. T. Character building.	170.71
Wells, Carolyn. *Eights girls and a dog.	95214.1
Wright, C. D. Some ethical phases of the labor question.	331.23
Wright, Mabel O. *Dogtown.	9782.4
*Juvenile books.
Jan. 31, 1903.

NO SPORT IN IT.

How Northern Indians Secure Venison For Their Larders.

A New Yorker who lives a small fraction of the time in the city, being usually long distances away in pursuit of game, tells of the method pursued by the Indians of British Columbia in taking deer. They have evolved a system, this huntsman says, that shows practical skill and sympathy and knowledge of natural conditions. He says:

"The Indians, to begin with, do not hunt deer for the pleasure of hunting. They go for deer as a housekeeper goes to market for beef, and, what's more—in British Columbia, at any rate—they don't go often. Salmon is plentiful in the rivers and is easily caught, so why chase animals when they can secure fish? It is something as it is in Newfoundland, where I went a couple of seasons ago. There the prevailing fish, as you might say, is cod, and, though there is no end to the variety of edible fish that can be taken, the natives never think of eating anything else. Cod is plentiful, and they form the habit, I suppose. This is so ingrained that they call codfish 'fish' simply. The genus is divided into cod and the rest of fish."

"Well, when the British Columbia Indian makes up his mind for venison, he goes at it systematically and without sentiment. A group of half a dozen or ten men split and take either end of a valley. Then they proceed along the mountain slope from the two ends to the center. They choose the sheltered side of the valley on which the deer seek to escape the wind. Each party covers the mountain side, some near the foot and some at the top and others between the lines, keeping abreast by an imitated owl hoot. The deer, on 'wind-fing' pursuit, have the trick of leaping away down the slope, unlike the goats, which go up, and thus between the two approaching parties they are swept together at the middle of the valley. A good sized herd will thus be killed off and the Indians supplied for many weeks by two or three days' exertion."—New York Tribune.

HE WOULDN'T BE SNUBBED

Colonel Ochiltree Bided His Time and Carried Off the Honors.

General Grant was a great admirer of Colonel Thomas Ochiltree and made many of the men of Galveston a bit jealous. As a result they once planned an incident whereby they would humiliate Ochiltree. Grant was to stop at Galveston after his trip to South America, and the committee did not put Ochiltree's name on the list of distinguished men to meet him.

Ochiltree bided his time, as he was never known to complain, and did not go to the ship to welcome General Grant. He took a vantage point in the crowd that filled the streets in front of the Tremont House. He was behind two rows of celebrities who were doing guard duty along the edges of a crimson carpet which ran from the hotel steps to the curb. The reception committee, or part of it, was standing in the hotel door, waiting to give the general the gladstone hand.

Ochiltree watched until the general and Mrs. Grant had stepped from the carriage, and then he bulged through the line. He rushed down the crimson carpet, shook heartily the hand of his old friend and, offering his arm to Mrs. Grant, marched proudly through the rank and file of the leading citizens into the hotel. The mob outside demanded a speech from the general, and, constituting himself a committee of one, Colonel Ochiltree appeared with him in the hotel balcony and introduced Grant as one of his best, truest and bravest friends. This was the last time the men in Galveston tried to snub him at a social function.

It Made History.

Such a slight circumstance as a glass of wine changed the history of France for nearly twenty years. Louis Philippe, king of the French, had a son, the Duke of Orleans, and heir to the throne, who always drank only a certain number of glasses of wine, because even one more made him tipsy. On a memorable morning he forgot to count the number of his glasses and took one more than usual. When entering his carriage, he stumbled, frightening the horses and causing them to run. In attempting to leap from the carriage his head struck the pavement, and he soon died. That glass of wine overthrew the Orleans rule, confiscated their property of £20,000,000 and sent the whole family into exile.

Adam and the Tailor.

"This," said the guide, "is the grave of Adam." Historic spot! With reverential awe—nay, with a feeling of deep thankfulness—the wealthy merchant tailor on his first trip to the orient drew near and cast a flower on the tomb. "Erring ancestor," he murmured, "I should be the last man on earth to revile your memory. To your sin I owe my prosperity."—Chicago Tribune.

Medicine For Him.

"His wife has treasured all the letters he wrote her when he was courting her; keeps them by her all the time." "Gracious! She doesn't read them over, does she?" "No, but she threatens to read them to him whenever he gets obstreperous."—Philadelphia Press.

Foretold.

May—What's the matter, dear? Clara—My engagement with Charley is broken. May—But I thought you intended to break it? Clara—So I did, but the wretch went and broke it himself.

It doesn't cost a cent to be a gentleman, but it may cost you your life to be a fool.—Atchison Globe.

JUST LIKE MOTHER.

An Early Morning Letter With an Important Announcement.

That domestic ambulance corps of which mother or wife or sister has charge, being accustomed to all the accidents that befall heedless men folk, can sometimes deal with them at long range. Thus the New York Mail and Express tells how, at 6 o'clock in the morning of the wedding day, a post-office messenger rang the bell at the home of the bride to be and handed out a special delivery letter.

It was addressed to the best man, who had come forty miles to second his best friend in the ceremony, and was, with several others, the guest of the bride's parents. The best man was still sound asleep, but he was promptly awakened on the supposition that the letter must contain something of importance.

It did, indeed. Rubbing his eyes in an effort to understand, he tore open the envelope and was astonished to find a sheet of letter paper, with a large needle of the sort men always choose when emergency compels them to sew thrust through it and a foot of black thread doubled and trailing in a loose tangle down the page.

The best man thought it was a joke, but he could not see it, and he was about to become resentful when, upon turning the sheet, he found this hastily written note:

Dear Brother—Mother says there is a button off your dress coat. It is in your waistcoat, right hand pocket. Sew it on.

Crawling out of bed, the best man examined his coat and laughed to see that the situation had been accurately described in the letter. "Just like mother," he said. "She has probably lost a whole night's sleep thinking about that button."

Later in the day four bridesmaids gleefully assisted in making the repairs, and this telegram went to mother:

Button sewed on. Don't worry.

KEEPING A LOGBOOK.

The System of Abbreviations Used on Merchant Vessels.

How many landmen know how a logbook is written up? It seems just as complicated as double entry bookkeeping when one does not know, but after a little careful attention and study it's as easy to keep a logbook as to eat hot gingerbread. There is a list of letters arranged, and they look like so much Greek to the uneducated.

The letter b, for instance, stands for blue sky, whether there be clear or hazy atmosphere. C means cloudy or detached, opening clouds; d denotes drizzling rain; a small j, fog; capital F, thick fog; g, gloomy, dark weather; h, hail; l, lightning, and m, misty or hazy so as to interfere with the view.

The letter o represents overcast or when the whole sky is covered with one impenetrable cloud. Passing showers are noted by the letter p, and q indicates the weather to be squally. Continuous rain is indicated by an r, snow by an s and thunder by a t. Any ugly, threatening appearance in the weather calls for the letter u, and visibility of distant objects, whether the sky be cloudy or not, is represented by the letter v. A small w is wet dew. A full point or dot under any letter denotes an extraordinary degree. As an example of how the letters are used take q p d l t. This reads very hard squalls and showers of drizzle, accompanied by lightning, with very heavy thunder. Numerals denote the force of the wind. A cipher indicates calm, 1 light air, 2 light breeze, 3 gentle breeze, 4 moderate breeze, 5 fresh breeze, 6 strong breeze, 7 moderate gale, 8 fresh gale, 9 strong gale, 10 whole gale, 11 storm, 12 hurricane. This system of abbreviation is generally adhered to on all merchant vessels.

Quicksands.

Quicksands have a horrible fascination for writers and readers of fiction, and the reality is every bit as bad as fancy paints it. One of the most remarkable quicksand accidents occurred years ago in New Zealand. Two prospectors were wading across the mouth of a small stream running into the sea in the north island of New Zealand. Both stepped into a quicksand. One who merely touched the edge of it got loose. The other sank rapidly and, in spite of his companion's efforts, was sucked under. When an attempt was made to recover the body, it was found that the sand was enormously rich in gold. From a single ton of it £300 worth of gold was washed.—Pearson's.

The Enterprise

ISSUED WEEKLY BY THE ENTERPRISE PRINTING COMPANY,
R. B. EARLE, TREASURER.
OFFICE
Post Office Building, Arlington, Mass.
BOSTON POSTAL DISTRICT.
BRANCH OFFICE: LEXINGTON.
TELEPHONE, ARLINGTON, 301-2.
J. STEDMAN, MANAGING EDITOR.

Entered at the Boston Postoffice as second-class mail matter.

THURSDAY, FEB. 6, 1903.

ALDERMEN AND ANARCHY.

A resolution has been introduced into the Boston board of aldermen asking that no action be taken towards compelling the owners of the Westminster Chambers in Copley Square to conform to the laws of Massachusetts. The enforcement of law has been deferred owing to the fact that the supreme court of the United States has been appealed to, to decide upon the constitutionality of the statute. If the constitutionality of the law be sustained, the presumptions height of the towering building must be reduced. It is not a question of taste, but of obedience to government. The law determines the height to which buildings may be carried. The Westminster's builders defied the law and scoffed at admonition. Now it is to be seen whether the commonwealth is to be governed by contractors and corporations, or by the will of the people expressed in law deliberately "made and provided." For to allow individuals, however rich and influential, to defy and ignore law is to sanction anarchy, even though approved by the aldermen of Boston.

IRELAND.

Few subjects are less understood than the so-called Irish question. Party feeling and race prejudice have been allowed to run so high that the truth has often suffered by that partial representation which is misrepresentation. We believe the day of peace and prosperity for Ireland has already begun to dawn. The most hopeful evidence of this is found in the report of the Conference between the landlords and Irish leaders held at Dublin a few weeks since. The landlords have not only been brought to discuss terms, but to discuss them with Irish members of parliament, the natural representatives of the tenants. Mr. Redmond and his colleagues have been enabled to come to an understanding with Lord Dunraven and his colleagues. An opportunity is thus afforded for the government to bring in a bill which will settle the long-disputed controversy, redeem many of the errors of the past, and usher in a peaceful and prosperous future. The Conference recommends the abolition of dual ownership and the establishment of an occupying proprietorship. The state is not to interfere directly in the purchase and sale of land, the settlement to be made between owner and occupier. An equitable price to be paid to owners, and every inducement offered to them to continue to reside in Ireland, and to expend in that country the income received from the sale of their lands. The amount of purchase money to be made payable over a series of years, and in such a way as to secure the immediate reduction of rents, as well as future periodical decrease. The aid of the state is asked to guarantee the landlord's rights; and to help the tenant with something "beyond the use of its credit," where this can be done. The cost of carrying out and administering the scheme will thus fall upon the British taxpayers. But a peaceful and thriving Ireland would mean a large reduction in the expense now involved in the administration of law. The Conference expresses its belief that an unexploited opportunity is afforded of effecting a reconciliation of classes in Ireland upon terms which involve no permanent increase in imperial expenditures. The Times says: "The settlement of the land question is in sight, and with it the evolution of a thousand difficulties, and the removal of a thousand burdens that have long distracted the administration of Ireland." We say, Haste happy day, and God save Ireland!

THE PANAMA CANAL.

An agreement has been signed between the representatives of the United States and Colombia for the construction of the inter-oceanic canal across the isthmus of Darien. This route has always found popular favor, and sometimes the people's common sense is as sagacious as the judgment of the expert. The compact now only await ratification by the two governments, and little delay or difficulty in that regard is anticipated. An annuity is to be paid to Colombia, somewhat less than that first demanded. But the value to this country and to the world of this highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific is not to be estimated in money. We hope that discussion will now give place to digging.

THE COMING OF THE MOTOR.

We are soon to have an exhibition in Boston of automobiles and motor-cars. The age of the motor has just begun. The self-propelled carriage has arrived. It has passed beyond the stage of experiment, and a thousand minds are at work studying the problem of auto-locomotion; and almost every day sees something done towards making the motor-car more simple and practical, and consequently more economical and universal. President Davis, at the annual banquet of the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers, held in New York a week since, said that the profits on the show recently held in that city amounted to $40,000. He became so enthusiastic as to venture upon prophecy. "It is a far greater cry from the vehicles of the ancients to the automobiles of today, than it is from the modern automobile to the airship of the future. The sleeping child of tonight will awaken some triumphant morning to find as many ships cleaving the blue of the sky as today cleave the blue of the sea. This is very eloquent, but possibly a little exuberant. The words of another speaker, while glowing with enthusiasm, do not strike us as being extravagant—for they build no tracks in the air and launch no dream-ship to the moon. "The coming of the motor is to mark an epoch in civilization as did the discovery of steam, the sewing machine, the electric telegraph and the telephone." It is doubtless true that the most active imagination fails to picture the large place which the automobile, for purposes of business as well as pleasure, will fill in the course of this century. The horseless carriage will bring clean and quieter streets. The withdrawal of the horse will relieve much of the crowding in city thoroughfares. A motor-truck will carry twice the load in half the time which a horse-drawn wagon requires for the same distance. And surely a day of relief and release for the horse is at hand. Who that remembers the horse-cars of fifteen or twenty years ago, does not feel thankfulness and comfort as he thinks that neither stopping nor starting, nor steep grades, nor long trips, bring pain and suffering to the tireless electric steed, with its nerves of steel and sinews of iron. The old negro who saw the first trolley car on the streets of a southern city said, "Bless de Lawd, de white man freed de nigger, now he done freed de mule!" The inventor of the motor-carriage is the emancipator of the horse.

Within a single hour the Enterprise has been reproved by one subscriber for being habitually "shy" on church, news and by another was accused of filling up the paper with church announcements and neglecting public and municipal affairs. In our efforts to please we will regularly publish the proceedings of the various departments of town government and while it is impossible for our staff to cover all the various churches and their numerous auxiliaries, we will cheerfully publish the doings of any which contributed. The Enterprise recognizes that clergymen are not idlers and that their duties are many and their time is not always their own, consequently can not conscientiously ask them to devote valuable time to writing church items for our paper.

It was written on the street car—there was evidently a dog fight in progress when the compositor set the line—the proofreader was ill last week and her "sub" slightly "new" at deciphering our chirography and the accompanying is a snap shot by the office devil of the editor when he saw how the compositors and proofreaders had interpreted his hieroglyphics for Nonagenarian.

W. R. C. ENTERTAINMENT.

It was surely a bountiful, tempting supper that was prepared by ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps on Wednesday evening, January 29, and fully one hundred and fifty sat down to the well laden tables. Mrs. Clara Kimball was chairman, assisted by Mrs. Thayer, Mrs. Barnes, Mrs. Burwell, Mrs. Winchester and Mrs. Oakman. Following the supper an excellent entertainment was given under the supervision of Miss Annette Frizelle, chairman of the entertainment committee. Mr. Arthur Tucker of Lexington, gave two well rendered and pleasing selections, and little Ray Mauger delighted the audience with his piano solos, which for a child so small were finely executed, and greatly appreciated. Miss Frizelle's solos are well worth mention for they were beautifully rendered in the usual unaffected, taking way. The Post Orchestra received no small place on the program for their several selections made it complete. The occasion was given at this time to commemorate McKinley's birthday, and it is expected each patriotic event will be celebrated in a like manner.

DANGER FROM THE GYPSY MOTH.

Arlington will undoubtedly receive a visit from the employees of the Gypsy Moth Commission this year, as a report has just been made to the state legislature, by a committee of the state board of agriculture, which predicts dire things, for this and surrounding towns, from the pest the coming year. The report concludes with this utterance: "From some ten years' experience with this pest, we believe that, bad as have been the recent depredations, the future has even worse and more widespread damage in store. The year just passed has proved anew the futility of individual efforts in controlling the moth, and the pressing need for thorough-going, concerted, systematic work against the pest over the whole infested district. The committee of the board states that in the spring of 1902 the egg clusters of the moth were present in many sections of Arlington, Medford, Malden, Melrose, Saugus, Belmont, Watertown, Lexington, Woburn and Lynn. During a day's drive through the infested territory early in July the committee saw all told at least 100 acres of woodland practically defoliated by the moth."

THE MATRON'S SPEECH.

Eloquence That Quelled a Riot in a Military Hospital.

In the "Memories of a Hospital Matron" a writer in the Atlantic Monthly, who was head of a Confederate hospital during the war, relates this exciting incident: "Our steward, a meek little man, came to me one day, pale with fright, and said that the convalescents had stormed the bakery, taken out the half cooked bread and scattered it about the yard, beaten the baker and threatened to hang the steward. I hurried to the scene to throw myself into the breach before the surgeon should arrive with the guard and arrest the offenders. I found the new bakery leveled to the ground and 200 excited men clamoring for the bread which, they declared, the steward withheld from them from meanness or stole for his own benefit. "And what do you say of the matron?" I asked, rushing among them. "Do you think that she, through whose hands the bread must pass, is a party to the theft? Do you accuse me, who have nursed you through months of illness, making you chicken soup when we had not seen a chicken for a year, forcing an old breastbone to do duty for months for those unreasonable fellows who wanted to see the chicken; me, who gave you a greater variety in peas than was ever known before and who lately stewed your rats when the cook refused to touch them? And this is your gratitude! You tear down my bakehouse, beat my baker and want to hang my steward!" "To my surprise the angry men laughed and cheered. A few days later there came to me a 'committee' of two sheepish looking fellows to ask my acceptance of a ring. Each of the poor men had subscribed something from his pittance, and their old enemy, the steward, had been sent to town to make the purchase. Accompanying the ring was a bit of dirty paper on which was written, 'For our chief matron, in honor of her brave conduct on the day of the bread riot.'"

THE COOKBOOK.

To prevent eggs from cracking when they are boiling, place a pin in the saucepan. If you get too much salt in the gravy, a pinch of brown sugar will remedy the saltiness without hurting the gravy in the least. When onions are of too strong flavor to be pleasant for sauce, boil a turnip with them, but remove it before using the onions. Never fry more than six oysters at once unless you have a very large kettle of fat. If more are cooked, they will soak grease and take a long time to brown. Don't forget that mince-meat is a great deal better to be made a week or ten days before it is to be used. The spices and cider, etc., have thus time to permeate the apple and meat. Peanut salad is an excellent accompaniment for roast duck. Soak a cupful of peanut meats in olive oil, drain and mix lightly with two cupfuls of finely cut celery and a dozen pitted olives. Serve with mayonnaise dressing on lettuce leaves.

Plea For the Wooden Shoe.

"We have wisely taken to wearing sandals," says a Philadelphia physician. "I hope that before long we will learn the advantage of the wooden shoe, or sabot. Do you know that a great many diseases are due to leather shoes, due to the wearing all day long of tight leather that is often, in bad weather, water soaked? And do you know that by the wearing of wooden shoes, which keep the feet dry and which do not 'draw,' all those diseases might be avoided? I have several pairs of sabots, and so have my wife and children. They cost about 30 cents a pair and keep the feet dry, without cramping them or making them unhealthily tender. I believe that the wisest thing Americans could do would be to take up the sandal and the sabot, discarding altogether the shoe of leather."

Didn't Know About Cashboys.

Uncle Podunk (shopping in town, to saleswoman)—How much for them socks? Saleswoman—Twenty-five cents a pair. Uncle Podunk (putting his hand in his pocket)—All right. Gimme a pair. Saleswoman—Yes, sir. Cash, here! C-a-a-s-h! Uncle Podunk—Thunder and mud, woman! Ye needn't holler it so darn loud! I know it's cash here, an' ain't I feelin' fer it as fast as I kin?—New York Times.

Galvani's Discovery.

It is to the wife of Professor Galvani of Bologna that is due the credit of having discovered the electrical battery which bears his name. Some skinned frogs lay upon the table, and, noticing a convulsive movement in their limbs, she called her husband's attention to the strange fact, who instituted a series of experiments, and in 1791 he laid the foundation of the galvanic battery.

Their Luck.

"Just my luck," said Borem. "She's always out when I call." "So she was telling me," said Miss Peppery. "She told you the same thing, eh?" "Yes. Only she said it was just her luck."—Philadelphia Press.

Hard Luck.

She—Because I cannot marry you do not be disheartened. You must face the world bravely. He—It isn't a question of the world; I've got to face my creditors.

WE WILL HOPE!

DEAR ENTERPRISE:— A change has come at last. Now comes the opportunity for a reform in the administration of town affairs. The resignation of one of the board of selectmen helps to bring about the change that has been suggested by your correspondent in the columns of the Enterprise. Now we can have a business like board of selectmen in Arlington. At the present moment only one man by training and experience is fitted for the position and that man is Howard W. Spurr, and at our next town meeting by the election of Charles W. Scannell we can have something done and win back the confidence of our citizens and taxpayers. While Mr. Farmer assigns no reason why he has taken this step he evidently did not believe in being tied to the apron strings of the committee of twenty-one, and believed that some such change in the present board would precipitate a change in the entire mechanism of the town government. Let us Hope!

PLEASANT STREET.

Pattee brought the Laundry prices down—stick by him.

WOMAN'S CLUB GENTLEMAN'S NIGHT.

Thursday evening, January 29, occurred the annual Gentleman's night of the Woman's Club, held this year as previously in Town Hall, which was none too large for the gathering present, being as usual a stylish one. Miss Helen Damon, Miss Alice Homer, Miss Elizabeth Colman, Miss Babson, Miss Varney and Mrs. W. K. Cook acted as ushers.

The platform was very prettily decorated with palms, ferns, and rubber trees, and gave the hall a most inviting appearance. The President, Mrs. Charles A. Dennett, introduced Mrs. Waldo Richards, of Brookline who gave a series of readings which delighted the audience and far exceeded anything heard here before. The recital was given in two parts with music during the intermission which was much enjoyed, and opened with a concert by Odell's Stringed Orchestra. The Choral class, led by Miss Brackett sang several selections—"Loris" by Nevin, with a cello and flute obligato was particularly enjoyed, as was also "The Night has a Thousand Eyes," by Nevin, with violin obligato. Mrs. Herbert M. Chase accompanied the chorus on the piano, the last number being "Good Night Beloved," by Pinski.

Mrs. Richards is surely a most talented reader, and her command of different dialects very fine, while her stage learning is wholly unprofessional and easy. She gave the following selections which were all keenly enjoyed.

Selection from Wm. Henry Drummond, "When the Last Picture is Painted" by Kipling; An Object Lesson, Mary Bradley; two childish selections, written for her by Mrs. Schriger, an artist of Boston. Second scene, Act 5 from Shakespeare's Henry V.; Aunt Tabitha, O. W. Holmes; Easter Symbolism, Ruth McEnery Stuart; A new version of an old Bible story. At the close of the program a reception was held and the hall cleared. An inviting spread was served from the platform. The ladies constituting the committee and having the event in charge were as follows: Mrs. G. W. W. Sears, chairman, art; Miss Carolyn A. Brackett, music; Mrs. C. A. Hardy, civics; Mrs. I. W. Holt, science; Mrs. W. A. Robinson, educational; Mrs. G. A. Swan, social; Mrs. George O. Russell, home; Miss M. Helen Teale, literary; Mrs. A. D. Woodworth, prudential committee, Mrs. E. P. Stickey and Miss Annette Wellington did much in arranging for the evening.

Did you hear the Laundry Prices drop? Pattee did it.

It is a Question ?

Where you will get a good desirable

FRESH FISH,

when you want a nice dinner.

LET US SOLVE THE PROBLEM.

Let us know when you want the fish, and we will supply a good one so promptly it will surprise you.

M. F. EMERY

Arlington Sea Food Market,

opp. Soldiers' Monument.

Telephone 55-5

Very large proportion, some say one-third of all fire losses in costly residences are caused by the careless use of matches. Hate nibble them, servants scatter them about, children play with them, nay, even you, yourself, may snap off the end of one on the floor for some one else to step on and set fire to the carpet or curtains resulting in a disastrous conflagration to property and sometimes life. Use Electricity the Matchless Light Somerville Electric Light Co., F. ELWOOD SMITH, General Manager, 10 WILLOW AVE., WEST SOMERVILLE.

LEONARD A. SAVILLE.

Office, Post Office Building, Lexington. Farms, Houses and Land for Sale and Leased.

Furnished Houses to Rent. Agent for Manchester Insurance Co., a first-class Company at regular rates.

ADVERTISE.

Wickless Smokeless Oil Radiator

Top is removable for light cooking. Height 34 inches, weight 38 lbs. $10

Agencies in nearly all towns. Circulars free.

Central Oil & Gas Stove Co.

17 Washington Street, Near Haymarket Sq.

NEW GOODS

EVERYTHING NEW

LAWTON & PREBLE

CRESCENT BUILDING, COR. MASSACHUSETTS and PARK AVENUES,

Arlington Heights

GROCERIES and PROVISIONS

This store will be the headquarters for high grade beef at Boston Market Prices. Try us on Kerosene Oil. We have an oil which we can guarantee not to smoke or darken the chimneys and has no bad odors to it. Try our Peerless Brand Coffee. It is the very finest on the market at 25 cents per pound. We have excellent Creamery Butter at 28 and 32 cents per pound. We carry all kinds of Smoked and Salt Fish.

TELEPHONE 121-2. CALL US UP AND ENQUIRE OUR PRICES. WE DELIVER ANYWHERE.

ADVERTISE

A. BOWMAN,

LADIES' and GENTLEMEN'S TAILOR,

487 Massachusetts Ave., Arlington.

ALTERING, CLEANSING, DYEING, PRESSING,

FRED A. SMITH,

Watchmaker and Jeweler,

Repairing French, Hall and American Clocks and all Grades of Watches.

ALL WORK GUARANTEED. CLOCKS CALLED FOR AND RETURNED.

489 MASSACHUSETTS AVE., ARLINGTON.

VICTOR TALKING MACHINE

agency at

Fancy BAKERS... CONFECTIONERS... CATERERS...

657 MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE, - - - ARLINGTON.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION.

DENTISTRY.

Special attention given to Filling, Gold Crown and Bridge Work.

J. I. Peatfield,

Dentist,

485 MASSACHUSETTS AVE.

Finance Bldg., Arlington.

W. LEWIS CLARK & CO.

CIVIL ENGINEERS AND SURVEYORS.

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTS.

1005 Barristers Hall, BOSTON, MASS. Pemberton Sq. Tel. 1894-4 Hay.

SUBSCRIBE.

HENRY A. BELLAMY,

Contractor and Builder.

72 WALNUT ST., ARLINGTON.

OFFICE.

113 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON.

Telephone 3348-3.

LUCIUS A. AUSTIN,

DEALER IN

Choice Groceries, Fancy Goods

Stationery, Daily Papers, Lexington Enter price and Small Wares of all kinds.

Laundry Agency. Tel. 2104-3 Lexington.

EAST LEXINGTON POST OFFICE.

Advertise in the Enterprise

JOHN A. FRATUS,

A Real Pleasure.

Jeweler,

Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Etc.

You will find many suggestions for Holiday Presents by examination of our stock.

All Repairing Guaranteed.

Store at Post Office, Lexington.

H. Y. SMITH,

Periodicals, Confectionery, Cigars, Boston and New York Newspapers, Boots, Shoes, Bicycles, Gentlemen's Furnishings.

MASSACHUSETTS AVE., LEXINGTON.
Opposite Post Office.
LEXINGTON ENTERPRISE.

Jannelle's

Home-Made Bread

Good bread gives the greatest pleasure of anything you eat, because it gives good health.

Will supply you with plenty of nutritive excellence and wholesome enjoyment.

J. L. JANNELLE & CO.,

Bakers, Confectioners and Caterers

HUNT BUILDING,

MASSACHUSETTS AVE., LEXINGTON, MASS.

LEXINGTON.

Mrs. W. L. Burrill of No. Lexington, who was suffering from a severe attack of neuralgia, is quite recovered, and her neighbors are once more enjoying her ready wit and pleasant greetings.

A Cambridge man, J. M. Hilton, who formerly owned the well known Chandler estate in Lexington, was the victim of a railway accident at Tucson, Arizona, last week.

Miss Kirkland announces that on Feb. 2 there will be on exhibition at the Cary Library, some beautiful views of California, and that the exhibition will continue until Feb. 23.

The adjourned meeting of the Hancock church society, was held last Tuesday evening, and the financial condition of the parish was considered. All things considered the condition of the church is in a most satisfactory condition.

Letters advertised at the Post Office this week are, Gentlemen: L. G. Bailey, P. J. Flemming, Thomas J. McGinn. Ladies: Miss Clarissa Brown, Jennie Cook, Mary G. Morrison, Elizabeth Tower, and Mrs. Richard White.

Supt. W. H. Greene of the Lexington and Boston street railway has returned to town, and resumed his duties. His wife who accompanied him to Thomasville, Georgia, will remain at that health giving resort, enjoying its balmy breezes, until the winter months have lost their grip hereabouts, and other people hereabouts have also parted with their "grippe."

The town officers have made up their reports, and they are now in the hands of the printer. They contain a lot of interesting information for our citizens, and it is expected, although not positively promised, that they will be ready for distribution about Feb. 10. Any way they will be in the hands of the voters long enough before the March meeting for them to become acquainted with their contents, and vote intelligently on next year's appropriations and improvements.

People living in the vicinity of the Munroe Station, are circulating a petition to have an agent placed in care of the B. & M. R. R. station at that point. It is being quite generally signed, and in addition to the fact that the signers are an influential class of citizens, and that no part of the town is more inviting for residences, there seems very little doubt but what the matter will receive favorable consideration, at the hands of the railroad officials.

The pupils of the High school have been planning a reception to the principal and his wife for some time. Arrangements have now been completed and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Porter will have an opportunity on Friday evening, Feb. 13, to meet the people of Lexington. The reception will be held in the High school hall, and is already an assured success as both the principal and his talented wife have already made many friends in Lexington.

The late Lorin L. Dame, principal of Medford High School who died last week, Tuesday evening, very suddenly from apoplexy, was well known at one time in Lexington having been principal of the High School here from 1864 to 1868. Since then he was principal of the Stoneham High School for six years, and for the past 27 years at the Medford High School. He was much respected and beloved and his death means a great loss in educational circles.

"The Curve of Social Progress," was the subject of a lecture by Rev. Edward Cummings of Somerville, before the members of the Lexington Literary Union, Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 27. Mr. Cummings dwelt on the advancement of civilization, through the various social conditions, showing how the ideal of one generation, becomes the recognized fact and reality of the next. He showed how nobler and higher became each step in a forward direction until they had reached the infinite. He believed in spiritualizing wealth, as the proper safeguard against the evils which attach themselves to wealth long acquired. That wealth should be used for the good of others, to uplift the fallen, and thus make the material side of life part of its spirituality. Mr. Cummings used illustrations to aid him in his lecture, which was of a very high literary character.

In last week's account of the turning on of the water from the Metropolitan Water System, the reporter unintentionally spoke of E. S. Locke, the present efficient chairman of the water board, as town treasurer. This was a mistake on the part of the reporter, as Mr. Harrington has long and faithfully served the town, both as town clerk and treasurer. Mr. Locke has filled the office of assessor for years with entire satisfaction to the town and his service as chairman of the water board, has always been for the best interests of the town. Chairman Locke's prompt action in making arrangements with the Metropolitan Water Commissioners, was a commendable piece of work as was proved by the fire at East Lexington very soon after the water was turned on, and the mistake was almost inexcusable as both gentlemen have always been very ready to supply information of a proper nature to the Enterprise, and this paper is glad to make this explanation.

Mrs. C. C. Goodwin of Merriam street, Lexington, has sent out cards for an at home Wednesday afternoon, when Captain W. A. Harris will give selections from Charles Dickens's works.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
ENTERTAINMENT.

The first in a series of entertainments for the benefit of the land fund of the church was given in Town hall, Friday evening, Jan. 30. The audience though small was an appreciative one, and it is to be regretted more did not avail themselves of the splendid opportunity to hear the Sherwood Ladies' Quartet, assisted by other talent.

The quartet is composed as follows: Mrs. T. Franklin Preston, Miss Bertha Putney, Miss Helena G. Parris, Mrs. A. P. Nickerson, assisted by Mr. G. Hunter Smith, tenor; Mr. Oscar L. Hogan, bass; Mr. Fred H. Lawton, reader; Mr. F. Cazneau Litchfield, pianist.

The program opened with the "Echo Song," Kienzl; by the quartet, followed by a bass solo, "The Vulcans song," by Mr. Hogan. Mr. Lawton's reading, a scene from "Cyrano de Bergerac," although more dramatic was much appreciated, and he responded as did the others to the applause.

The quartet's rendering of the "Eastern Song," was followed by one in an entirely different vein, a well known coon song. The next bass solo, "My Queen" was more pathetic, but the following number, "Serenade," by the quartet was very bright. "A Bandit's Life," by Mr. Hogan was warmly received and the trio, "Absent," by Mrs. Preston, Miss Parris and Mrs. Nickerson was especially good, the voices blending splendidly. The reading, "The Shipwreck," by Mr. Lawton was followed by a humorous selection, "When Cy Puts on His Sunday Clothes," and certainly proved the hit of the evening.

The quartet's rendering of "My Old Kentucky Home" was good and brought tears to the eyes of many. After a tenor solo by Mr. J. Hunter Smith entitled, "A Little Dutch Garden," the quartet gave as a closing number, "I Softly Dream," by Moring. The next entertainment is to be a lecture on "Shoestring Circuit," by Rev. Arthur Page Sharp of Somerville, Thursday evening, February 5.

PLEASANT STREET CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

In the absence of the pastor Sunday morning, Rev. S. C. Bushnell, who occupied the pulpit at Ascushnet, near New Bedford; Rev. Mr. Tead, an able missionary who labors in the West and South-west made an address. He gave numerous instances of his experiences and told how academies are being put up in rural districts in the Western states as there are no chances to learn above the eighth grade, and here young men and women are fitted for college. Many cowboys come to these academies rough, hard, men and graduate christians. He spoke of one young French girl, who by saving wood on Saturdays, paid her tuition and is now President of Drury College.

In Massachusetts alone there are thirteen colleges, but in saying the buildings don't make the colleges, but the teachers, he spoke very truly. His address was exceedingly interesting after which a special offering was taken for this worthy cause. Mr. Tead also spoke in the Sunday school, where he gave a graphic description of his life in Mexico as a missionary.

There was an all day sewing meeting at the church on Wednesday, a basket lunch was partaken of at noon.

At the Christian Endeavor meeting last Sunday evening, Miss Nellie Williams was the leader, the topic being, "Decide Today." It was anniversary day and the vestry was full, it being a very interesting and helpful meeting.

The colonial supper and entertainment is expected to be the event of the season, and will occur February 23. There will be a sale of fancy and useful articles and a very fine entertainment. Tickets are on sale at the Exchange.

The best physic. "Once tried and you will always use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets," says William A. Girard, Pease, Vt. These Tablets are the most prompt, most pleasant and most reliable cathartic in use. For sale by Laing's Drug Store, corner of Main and Spring streets.

SENSE AND NONSENSE.

Customer (wildly).—"I want some soothing syrup, quick."
Druggist.—"What size bottle?"
Customer.—"Bottle! I want a keg. It's twins!"

Frontrow.—"The leading man doesn't look like an actor."
Parquette.—"No, and what's more, he doesn't act like one."

She.—"I know that it is not so, but I cannot help feeling that it is."
He.—"I don't care whether it is so or not—I don't believe it."

Playwright.—"You'd better say a few kind words to the star before the performance. She seems dispirited."
Manager.—"In what way?"

Playwright.—"Well, she says there are moments when even she doubts that she is the greatest actress in the world."

OVERPETTED PETS.

Dogs and Cats Spoiled by Appetite For Unnatural Tidbits.

Possibly the dog world might afford a better specimen of a living skeleton than one in the kennel next to the door of a boarding place for animals, but it would take a day's journey to find him.

"What's makes him so thin?" was asked of the attendant.

"He won't eat," was the reply—"that is, he won't eat hospital food. He's been spoiled. Lots of dogs and cats that are brought here have been spoiled. Their owners think it is a sign of high breeding to cultivate an appetite for a peculiar and unnatural diet. They train animals to eat all kinds of food that they would never touch of their own volition. This emaciated fellow has been taught to like fruit. He is particularly fond of pears; but, in case he can't get them, peaches, apples and bananas are a fairly satisfactory substitute. Unfortunately, his present ailment makes a fruit diet extremely dangerous, and since he is deprived of his favorite food he is literally starving himself to death."

The attendant passed on to a neighboring cage and poked his finger sportively into the side of a large gray cat that "meowed" plaintively in response to his cheery "Hello, there, Caesar!"

The cat had such a healthy, wholesome appearance that the visitor inquired what meat he was fed upon.

"Humph!" said the attendant. "You've missed it there. He doesn't feed upon meat. He's a vegetarian. He likes onions better than anything else, unless it's melons. A good many cats like melons, and most of them are also partial to raw asparagus. The fact is you might run through a list of all the dishes that find a place on any up to date menu and you will find that some of our patients have acquired a taste for them. This epicurean appetite may denote aristocratic tendencies on the part of my boarders, but I don't approve of it. Most of these acquired tastes are a perversion of the natural animal appetite, and it is likely to prove harmful in the end. The trick is pretty expensive for us fellows that run cat and dog boarding houses, and I'd like to put a stop to it."—New York Times.

THE BEST DAY OF ALL.

Two Reasons Why Sunday Appeals to the Children.

On weekday mornings father had gone to work when you came downstairs, but on Sunday mornings when you awoke a trifle earlier, if anything—"Father!"

Silence.

"Father!" a little louder.

Then a sleepy "Yes."

"We want to get up."

"It isn't time yet. You children go to sleep."

You waited. Then—

"Father, is it time yet?"

"No. You children lie still."

So you and Lizbeth, wideawake, whispered together, and then, to while away the time while father slept, you played Indian, which required two little yells from you to begin with (when the Indian you arrived in your war-paint) and two big yells from Lizbeth to end with (when the Paleface She was being scalped).

Then father said it was "no use," and mother took a hand. You were quiet after that, but it was yawny lying there with the sun so high. You listened. Not a sound came from father and mother's room. You rose cautiously, you and Lizbeth, in your little bare feet. You stole softly across the floor. The door was a crack open, so you peeked in, your face even with the knob and Lizbeth's just below. And then at one and the same instant you both said "Boo!" and grinned, and the harder you grinned the harder father tried not to laugh, which was a sign that you could scramble into bed with him, you on one side and Lizbeth on the other, cuddling down close while mother went to see about breakfast.

It was very strange, but while it had been so hard to drowse in your own bed the moment you were in father's you did not want to get up at all. Indeed, it was father who wanted to get up first, and it was you who cried that it was not time.

Weekdays were always best for most things, but for two reasons Sunday was the best day of all. One reason was Sunday dinner. The other was father.—Harper's Magazine.

No Better OR.

"Poor Robinson! He couldn't make a living and married a woman with money."

"But isn't he all right now?"

"Hardly. She is so close with it that he has to work harder than ever."—Life.

But They Help Not a Little.

"Of course, clothes don't make the man."

"Certainly not."

"At the same time, if you have a new suit you'd better put it on when you go out to ask for credit."—Chicago Post.

THE FER-DE-LANCE.

His Terrible Bite Often Causes Death In a Few Moments.

The terrible fer-de-lance, will strike again and again and is the cause of great mortality where he exists, causing death often in a few moments. Over the whole earth there is none to compare with him except the notorious cobra of India. Although not a water snake, he is fond of the river and flat lands in its vicinity, seldom being met with in the hills. This denizen of the reedy swamp and sedgy river banks is found over the whole north of the South American continent as well as in the islands of Trinidad, St. Lucia and Martinique. He is truly the evil genius of the two latter, where deaths from his bite form a high percentage every year.

In Martinique especially it is necessary oftentimes in some districts to burn the cornfields so as to destroy these snakes before the negroes dare enter to cut the canes. On one estate thirty-seven fer-de-lances were killed on a piece of ground containing eleven acres.

Of a dull yellowish or clay tinted ground color, he is ringed with irregular, blackish bands, narrowing toward the back and broadening downward. This arrangement of coloring makes him extremely difficult to discern on the flat alluvial lands where the sun baked clay, mixed with the blackened color of sticks rotten and water soaked, makes a carpet of a color with his coat. He is from five to seven feet in length, as thick as a man's wrist, with a flat triangular head.

An Odd Barometer.

A common leech makes a good barometer. Fill a tumbler half full with water, put the leech into it and tie a piece of muslin over the top to keep the leech from getting out. All you have to do to find out what sort of weather we are going to have is to watch the little animal.

For example, when the day is to be fine the leech will remain at the bottom of the glass, coiled up in spiral shape and quite motionless. If rain may be expected, it will creep to the top of the glass and stay there until it clears off.

If the leech twists itself and is very restless, there is going to be a wind-storm. If it keeps out of the water for several days, look out for a thunder-storm.

The indications for frosty weather are the same as for fine and for snow the same as for rain. In fact, a leech is almost as good a forecaster as the weather man himself.

A Comedy of Errors.

When Baron Haussmann went to Constantinople on a visit to Abdul Aziz, who was then sultan, he had an interview with the grand vizier, who did not know a word of French. At the beginning of the interview the old long Turkish pipes were brought in, and then Baron Haussmann began making a very long speech in French. The grand vizier could not understand a word, but listened most attentively till he noticed that his pipe had gone out and clapped his hand for a servant to come and relight it. Haussmann, thinking he was applauding, rushed toward him with outstretched hand, intending to shake hands and thank him. The grand vizier, seeing his hand put forth, shook it warmly and said "Goodby," under the impression it was Haussmann's intention to leave, and quitted the room.

The "Ear of Dionysius."

A cunningly constructed prison cavern, consisting of a large chamber connected with one of smaller dimensions, situated near Syracuse, Italy, has gone into legendary history with the title of the "Ear of Dionysius." The smaller chamber was unknown to the prisoners kept in this underground dungeon, and the tyrant by whose name it is known had a habit of secreting himself there to listen to the conversation of the convicts, who were mostly political offenders. An ingenious device constructed at the smaller end of the larger chamber transmitted the sounds through the partition, thus enabling the suspicious ruler to hear even the whispered conversations of his "suspects."

Something to Shoot.

The other day a solitary sportsman, his gun under his arm, was wandering down a country lane in Inverness-shire when he met a small boy making for the school.

"I say, my boy," he remarked, "is there anything to shoot down here?"

The boy looked around for a moment and then answered with eagerness: "Aye, there's a skulemaister comin' owre the hill!"—London Answers.

Recently Acquired.

Tom—By George, old man, that's a stunning girl who just bowed to you. Who is she?

Jack—My sister.

Tom—Your sister! Since when?

Jack—Since last night.—Chicago News.

The spoon is very ancient, and many fine specimens are in existence that were used by the Egyptians in the seventeenth century B. C.

Do You Suffer with Wet or Cold Feet?

If so call in and get fitted with Rubbers, Arctics or Overshoes, or in fact any style of Fine, Fashionable Footwear.

F. O. NELSON,

SHERBURNE BLOCK, MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE.

LEXINGTON, MASS.

We Give Green Trading Stamps.

PIERCE & WINN CO.,
DEALERS IN Coal, Wood,
Hay, Straw,
Grain, Lime, Cement, Plaster, Hair, Fertilizer, Sand, Drain and Sewer Pipes, Etc.
Teaming Pillsbury's Flour, New England Gas and Coke Co.'s Coke.
Arlington, Arlington Heights, and Lexington.
Post Office Box B, Arlington.
Telephone 208 2 Arlington
Established 1841.

J. HENRY HARTWELL & SON,
UNDERTAKERS
4 MEDFORD ST., ARLINGTON.
BRANCH OFFICE:
50 Park Ave., Arlington Heights
Telephone Connection.

MAINSPRINGS.
We put them in your watch very carefully for 35c, while you wait, and if it breaks you can have another free of charge within one year. Come in and get acquainted with us.
COLLINS, 791 Washington St.
The Hollis St. Theatre is in rear of our store

THE ONLY MEDICINE taken internally that is absolutely guaranteed to cure is the WINCHESTER PILE CURE
$1.00 PER BOTTLE.
For sale by
C. W. ROSSMITH,
Massachusetts Ave., Corner Mystic Street, Arlington.
WINCHESTER PILE CURE CO.,
MEDFORD, MASS

Preserve Health
by doing away with the harbingers of disease germs.

Abolish carpets and substitute Parquet Floors.

Cheap as a carpet and more durable, will not hold disease germs, and can be laid over any floor.

Samples and estimates furnished.

G. W. KENTY & CO.,
OFFICE: 1300, MASSACHUSETTS AVE.,
ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.
Telephone 117-3.

CHAS. GOTT,
Carriage Builder,
JOBING IN ALL BRANCHES.
Fine Painting a Specialty.
450 Massachusetts Ave.,
Arlington, Mass.

A. E. COTTON,
PLASTERING AND BRICKWORK
Whitewashing, Tinting and Kalsomining.
FIRE-PLACES A SPECIALTY.
Jobbing of every description executed in the best manner.
Residence, 10 Webster St., ARLINGTON
Lock Box 72 Tel. 238-4

SUBURBAN HOTEL
LAKE ST., ARLINGTON, MASS.
Newly furnished and under entirely new management. First class in every respect. Private Dining Rooms. Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable. Telephone, 100 Arlington.
Wm. A. WHITE, Mgr.

ADVERTISE.

ARTHUR L. BACON,
MASON AND CONTRACTOR.
All kinds of Jobbing, Whitening, Fire Places and Boiler Setting.
Residence Cor. Mystic St. and Davis Ave.
LOCKER 88 MYSTIC. Lock Box 45, Arlington.
Tel. 51-4. Order Box at Pierce & Winn Co.

JAS. A. Mc WILLIAMS,
House, Sign and Fresco PAINTER.
All orders left with F. R. Daniels will be promptly attended to.
PAPERING AND TINTING
Shop: Rear 467 Massachusetts Avenue.
Residence: 105 Franklin Street.
ARLINGTON.

T. M. CANNIFF,
HAIRDRESSER,
943 Massachusetts Ave.
Arlington.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 26, 1903.
What promises to constitute the greatest triumph in the present administration was accomplished in Washington late Saturday afternoon when Secretary of State Hay and Sir Michael Herbert signed a treaty providing for the final settlement of the Alaskan boundary difficulty, the last occasion of dispute between Great Britain and the United States. Three eminent jurists are to be appointed by each of the treating countries and the six shall constitute a joint commission by the decision of which each is bound by treaty to abide. The settlement of this last remaining dispute between Great Britain and this country removes every ground for difference between the two nations and makes for that perfect harmony which has been the object of Secretary Hay ever since he took charge of the diplomatic relations of the United States.

Congress now has before it a carefully considered, skillfully drawn and conservative anti-trust bill, which while it would not injure any so called trust doing a legitimate business would, if placed on the statutes and enforced, prevent the unjust and nefarious practices which have in the past operated to build up gigantic monopolies and drive competitors out of the market. The bill reported by the House Judiciary Committee contains provisions which are needful to the proper prosecution of the present law against trade discrimination and that it in no instance violates the Constitution of the United States. While the Democrats will urge the adoption of more drastic provisions than those contained in the proposed law, they will support it in lieu of something more in accord with their ideas.

Briefly, the proposed law provides for publicity for corporations doing an interstate business, prohibits rebates or discrimination in rates and service by transportation companies and forbids conspiracy, cutting prices, etc., with a view to ruining competitors. Reviewing the measure, Representative Powers of Massachusetts said to your correspondent: "It lies fully within the constitutional authority of Congress, but it marks a distinct advance in the legislation already provided to prevent rebates and discrimination and the destruction of competition by large corporations and combinations. Publicity for corporate statistics is left largely in the discretion of the Interstate Commerce Commission which will not make public such facts and figures as could be used to the disadvantage of legitimate enterprises. No corporation is endangered by the provisions of the bill unless it is engaged in operations in violation of the law now on the statute or of its spirit."

The Littlefield anti-trust bill will doubtless pass the House at an early date with few dissenting votes. It remains to be seen, however, what the Senate will do with it. It is well known that the upper chamber contains champions—it might almost be written creatures—of the great corporate interests of the country and they are to be found in both parties. Under the rules of Senate a few men are all powerful and the question which now interests the vast army of consumers is whether the Senate will permit an adequate and effectual trust bill to be placed on the statutes.

When the Senate first convened this winter the leaders were unanimous in their statements that there would be no anti-trust legislation. Later the President announced that if there were none he would call Congress in extra session. Then the leaders experienced a change of heart and announced that there would be some "statutory revision" but that the Senate would await the action of the House. When the House had about concluded its anti-trust bill, framed in accordance with and almost under the personal supervision of the Attorney General, three new trust measures were announced as in preparation in the Senate committees. One of these has been reported and referred back to the Interstate Commerce committee. Are these Senate measures intended to complicate the situation and "head off" the House bill? Is the question everyone in touch with the situation is asking.

Much has been made of the Statehood deadlock in the Senate but within the past week the supporters of the Statehood bill have demonstrated that they have a majority of the Senate with them, thus placing the opponents of the Omnibus bill in the position of filibusters. Senator Quay and his friends are ready for a vote at any time and have so announced. They have proven the futility of further debate on the question and made evident the fact that the opposition is either determined to filibuster until the 4th of March or to avail themselves of the Statehood debate to prevent all legislative enactment at this session.

The Cuban treaty is on the executive calendar of the Senate and merely awaits an opportunity for ratification. That a sufficient number of Senators favor the convention to insure its ratification is now certain. When there will be an executive session of sufficient duration to permit its further consideration rests with the opponents of the Statehood bill.

The treaty with Columbia has finally and unexpectedly been concluded and has been sent to the Senate. By its provisions the United States is to pay a bonus to Columbia of $10,000,000 and an annual rental of $250,000, beginning five years after the mutual ratification of the treaty. At the end of sixty years the entire property of the Panama Railway Company will revert to the United States. This country will collect and retain all tonnage and other fees collected, not only on the canal but also in the ports of Colon and Panama.

HERE AND THERE.

Specimens of four, five, six, seven, eight and nine-leaved clovers have been presented to Queen Alexandra by a Welsh lady.

The Emperor of China, in his office of high priest, has to perform about forty-six sacrifices to different gods during a single year.

It is estimated that, two decades ago, the entire population of Eskimo lands (Alaska, Labrador, Greenland) was 30,000, but that it is now only 15,000, owing to the extermination of the seal, walrus, polar bear and other sources of food supply.

The director of the public aquarium at New York has established a hospital for sick fish. The most frequent fishing trouble is fungus on the head or tail, shown by a red spot. Fish suffering thus are taken to a special pool of disinfected water and operated on with scissors.

An engraver of Odessa has engraved the entire Russian national hymn upon a grain of corn, and recently he presented the curiosity to the czar. His majesty has now forwarded to him through the civil governor of Odessa a gold watch and chain, with his thanks for carrying out such a laborious undertaking.

Chinese doctors are very particular about the distinction between physicians and surgeons. A Chinese gentleman was struck by an arrow which remained fast in his body. A surgeon was sent for, and broke off the protruding bit of the arrow, leaving the point embedded. He refused to extract it, because the case was clearly one for a physician, the arrow being inside the body.

In the Turin journals recently appeared an announcement that a large banquet would soon be given at which the only guests would be those husbands in Turin who did not live happily with their wives. The banquet, in a word, is to be a sort of consolation feast, and the utmost care will be taken that while it is in progress the unfortunate spouses shall not be interrupted by their wives.

A Viennese engineer has constructed a small sailing yacht made entirely of sheets of an Austrian daily paper. The yacht is fifteen feet long and three feet wide, is decked all over and is provided with a centreboard. The hull, deck, masts, sails and rudder are all of paper. The inventor has made many trips on the Wörth See, in Carinthia, and has proved that his paper boat can sail rapidly and safely even when the water is rough and the wind high.

There are no bridesmaids at a Spanish wedding, but instead a madrina (literally, godmother) is present with the witnesses. There is no bride cake, but there is a reception and very often a feast after the ceremony. Before the wedding takes place the bride's new home is made ready for her reception, for the honeymooners do not start on their travels until the day after their marriage. Before their departure they pay a polite visit to their respective parents. On their return dainty sweetmeats in pretty boxes are sent round to their friends. No visits are paid till little cards have been sent "offering their house." In Spain it is very usual for all the wooing to take place in the presence of a dienna.

TENDENCY OF THE TIMES.

The tendency of medical science is toward preventive measures. The best thought of the world is being given to the subject. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. It has been fully demonstrated that pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, can be prevented by the use of the Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pneumonia always results from a cold or from an attack of influenza (grip), and it has been observed that this remedy counteracts any tendency of these diseases toward pneumonia. This has been fully proven in many thousands of cases in which this remedy has been used during the great prevalence of colds and grip in recent years, and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. Pneumonia often results from a slight cold when no danger is apprehended until it is suddenly discovered that there is fever and difficulty in breathing and pains in the chest, then it is announced that the patient has pneumonia. Be on the safe side and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the cold is contracted. It always cures. For sale by Laing's Drug Store, corner of Main and Spring streets.

Bacon—What's that ambulance going at such a speed for, do you suppose? Egbert—Why, another ambulance went down a few minutes ago and run over a man.

FORT BLUNDER.

Now It Was That Uncle Sam Built It on British Soil.

Curious indeed is an American fort which was built on British soil. How many can guess what fort it is and where located? The name is Fort Montgomery, and the location is on an island near the foot of Lake Champlain, about half a mile northeast of Rouse's Point, N. Y.

A short time ago, when traveling in that part of the country, I saw this fort and asked the name of it. "Why, that is Fort Blunder," said my informant. "Did you never hear of it?" I confessed ignorance, and he explained matters.

It seems that after the war of 1812 the government of the United States became convinced that the entrance to Lake Champlain should be guarded by a fort strong enough to engage any British fleet which might attempt to force an entrance to the lake, and so Fort Montgomery was constructed at a cost of nearly $500,000. It was an immense fortification for those days and was arranged for three tiers of guns.

Just about the time it was completed the joint surveyors fixing the line between the United States and Canada came along and, after doing a good bit of figuring, announced that Fort Montgomery was on Canadian soil. The northern boundary of New York state was the forty-fifth parallel, and this fort was several hundred yards over the line. Work on the fort came to an immediate standstill, and the matter was made the subject of a special treaty.

It was decided that in view of the fact that the United States had not intentionally encroached on Canadian soil the forty-fifth parallel should be bent a little out of its course at this point so as to include the fort. That is why the fort is called "Fort Blunder." It was never armed and has never been occupied by more than one or two men.—New York Herald.

PICKINGS FROM FICTION.

De tiredest people in the world is dem dat takes de most ease.—"Son."

The only safe investments are education and health.—"Daniel Everton."

The thing I did not pay for I found most expensive.—"The World's People."

You may be sure the devil will bump himself if you don't.—"Those Delightful Americans."

There is no such certainty of knowledge on all subjects as one holds at eighteen and eighty.—"Captain Macklin."

There are greater virtues than thrift. It is better to die penniless than to have been too much of a saver.—"The Un-speakable Scot."

"Let me get over this difficulty somehow," says youth, "that I may play the game of life well." And our hair is turning gray before we learn that the difficulty is the game.—"The Way of Escape."

The knights of the world no longer fight in armor, but in every street of every city there are still men "sans peur et sans reproche," who not only live for love, but who are ready to die for love's sweet sake.—"The Loom of Life."

An Emperor's Strange Fancy.

Strange fancies have taken hold of some men regarding the manner in which their bodies were to be disposed of after death and the ceremonies to be observed at their funerals.

The great Emperor Charles V. had the curious idea of celebrating his own funeral. Shortly before his death he caused a tomb to be made in the chapel of the monastery of Estremadura, to which he had retired after his abdication, and on its completion he was carried to it as though dead. Placed in a coffin and accompanied by a procession, he was borne along, while chants were sung, prayers said and tears shed. After the solemn farce was over he was left alone in the chapel, where he remained a short time before rising out of the coffin.

Too Good Highlanders.

Some years ago a vote was taken among the men of a certain highland regiment (at that time not wearing the kilt) to find out how many would be in favor of wearing the highland costume. In due time the sergeant major appeared before the commanding officer with the result of the voting.

C. O.—Well, sergeant major, how many are in favor of the kilt?

S. M.—Two men, sir.

C. O.—Only two. Well, I'm glad there are at least two good highlanders in the regiment. What are their names, sergeant major?

S. M.—Privates Patrick O'Brien and Michael Rooney, sir.—Scottish American.

Struck For $16 a Day.

In San Francisco in 1849 clerks in stores and offices had magnificent salaries. Five dollars a day was the smallest stipend even in the custom house, and one Baptist preacher was paid $10,000 a year. Laborers received $1 an hour. A pick or a shovel was worth $10 and a butcher's knife $30. At one time the carpenters, who were getting $12 a day, struck for $16.

All Tastes Provided For.

Sam—Did de pawson tell his flock dat St. Peter would give dem each a habp? Remus—No; he knew bettah. He told dem dat St. Peter would give dem each a banjo.—Philadelphia Record.

What Started the Jar.

Wife—I wonder how you can look me in the face.

Husband—Oh, a man can get used to anything.—New York Times.

It's easier to explain your neighbor's failure than your own misdirected efforts.—Chicago News.

W. G. KIMBALL,
Contractor and Builder.
All kinds of Wood Jobbing and Repairing. Estimates Given.
Shop: 1003 Massachusetts Ave.
ARLINGTON.
CALL AT THE
Mystic Street Waiting Room
FOR A
QUICK LUNCH
Confectionery,
Tobacco; Cigars, etc.
A. O. SPRACUE,
ARLINGTON.

A CHANCE OF A LIFETIME TO BUY A HOME. WILL YOU ACCEPT IT?
A nice Home for a small amount of money and easy terms. Call on me and I will please to show you what I have.
A. C. McDONALD,
1261 Massachusetts Ave., Arlington Heights
Carpenter and Builder; Houses for sale and to let.

DAVID CLARK,
22 years in the hacking business, is still at the same business at
10 MILL STREET, ARLINGTON,
Rubber-tired Carriages for funerals, weddings and evening parties. Also a wagonette for pleasure parties. Telephone Connection.

E. F. DONNELLAN.
UPHOLSTERER & CABINET MAKER.
Furniture, Matres, Window Shades, Awnings and Draperies made to order. Antique Furniture Repaired and Polished. Furniture Repaired. Carpets Made and Laid.
Mail orders promptly attended to.
442 Massachusetts Ave., Arlington
Telephone Connection.

If You Have a Trotter
Or a pacer, a road horse, or a work horse have them shod at the

Mill St. Shoeing Forge
21 Mill St. Arlington.
Hand-made steel shoes for driving horses. Horses called for and returned.
HORSE CLIPPING A SPECIALTY.
Telephone 423 2.

JAMES FITZGERALD,
Formerly with L. C. Tyler, announces that he has opened a
SHOE REPAIRING SHOP
in Sherburne Block, near the railroad crossing, where he will be pleased to attend to the wants of former patrons and others.
First Class Work Prompt Service

ARTISTIC CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Quality, Price and Selection will please you.

Also the CONVENIENCE,
as our Store is in HARVARD SQ., opposite the Transfer Station.

OLSSON & CO.,
ART DEALERS.
CAMBRIDGE.

SUBSCRIBE.

ESTABLISHED 1826.
Arlington Insurance Agency
GEORGE Y. WELLINGTON & SON, AGENTS.
Eight Mutual Companies. Ten Stock Companies. Office open daily and Wednesday and Saturday evenings.
Savings Bank Building, Arlington, Mass.
OFFICE HOURS: 1.30 to 4.30 P. M., Daily.

O. B. MARSTON,
Carpenter and Builder.
9 Swan's Place, Arlington.
Jobbing of all kinds promptly attended to.

J. W. HARRINGTON,
SUCCESSORS TO GEO. D. TUFTS.
Business established more than fifty years.
Practical House, Sign and Decorative Painter

All kinds of hard and soft woods finished in the latest and most improved manner. Kalsomining. Painting in water colors. Graining, glazing and Paper Hanging. Local agent for one of the largest wall paper houses in Boston. Drop me a card and I will call with samples. All sizes of glass on hand. Sign writing a specialty. Personal supervision given all work and satisfaction guaranteed. I respectfully solicit a further share of your patronage.
SHOP, 450 MASSACHUSETTS AVE., OPP. MEDFORD ST. RESIDENCE, 51 LEWIS AVE
ARLINGTON.

Boston Elevated Railway Co.
SURFACE LINES.

TIME TABLE.

Subject to change without notice.
ARLINGTON HEIGHTS TO BOWDOIN SQ.—(via Beacon St., Somerville). 4.30, 5.00 a.m. and intervals of 8, 10, 20 and 30 minutes to 11.16 p.m. SUNDAY—7.02 a.m., and intervals of 20 and 30 minutes to 11.16 p.m. NIGHT SERVICE—(via Adams Sq., 11.37, 12.07, 12.37, 1.07, 1.37, 2.07, 2.37, 3.07, 3.37, 4.07, 4.37, 5.07 a.m., Sunday) a.m., and intervals of 8, 10, 15 and 20 minutes to 11.20 p.m. (11.30 to Adams sq.) SUNDAY—5.01, 5.31 a.m., and intervals of 10, 15 and 20 minutes to 11.30 p.m. (11.30 to Adams sq.)
ARLINGTON CENTRE TO SULLIVAN SQ. TERMINAL via Broadway—(4.30 a.m. from Clarendon Hill Station to Adams Square.) 5.38 and intervals of 10 and 15 minutes to 12.03 night. Sunday—6.58 a.m., and intervals of 10 and 20 minutes to 12.03 night. Via Medford Hillside, 5.05, 5.35 a.m., and 10.15 and 20 minutes to 12.03 night. SUNDAY—6.38 a.m., and intervals of 10 and 15 minutes to 12.03 night.
Waverly to Park St. Station (Subway, via Mt. Auburn St.) (3.15, 4.15 a.m. to Adams Sq.), 5.40 a.m. and intervals of 10 and 15 min. to 11.16 p.m. Sunday, 7.12 a.m. and intervals of 10 and 15 min. to 11.16 p.m.

C. S. SERGEANT,
Vice-President.

HOTEL EMPIRE

BROADWAY AND 63D ST., N. Y. CITY.

ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF.

RATES MODERATE.

Excellent Cuisine. Efficient Service. Extensive Library. Orchestral Concerts Every Evening.

All Cars Pass The Empire.

From Grand Central Station take the cars marked Broadway and 7th Ave. Seven minutes to Empire.

From the Fall River Boats take the 9th Ave. Elevated to 59th Street from which Hotel is one minute's walk.

Send for Descriptive Booklet.

W. JOHNSON QUINN, Proprietor.

Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States.

The strongest in the world.

Assets, $331,039,720.34

Assurance Fund and all other Liabilities, 259,910,678.98

Surplus, $71,129,042.06

All kinds of life policies written. Information cheerfully given by the agent.

GEO. C. TEWKSBURY,

Arlington Heights, or 52 Equitable Building, Boston.

RAILROAD MEN'S WATCHES.

They Must Be Good Ones and Regularly Compared and Inspected.

A man with smoke ground into his hands and face walked into one of the downtown jewelry stores and handed over a big gold watch and a card. The repair man looked at the watch, made some queer marks on the card and handed both back. And the man walked out of the store.

"Didn't know you sell on the installment plan," suggested the inquisitive loafer.

"Don't," was the laconic response, and then the jeweler explained. "The man is a locomotive fireman, and his watch was being compared. You see, it is absolutely necessary that railroad watches keep good time, and the matter of making them keep good time has been systematized.

"The firemen, engineers, conductors, rear brakemen and train masters on all of the roads in this country have orders to have their watches compared twice a month and inspected every six months. On some roads nearly all of the employees are supposed to go through this same routine.

"When a watch is bought by any of these men, it must be passed upon by the jeweler who has been appointed inspector for the road that the purchaser serves. It must be a good watch, costing about $35 for the works alone, for the rattle and jolt of a train would seriously affect a cheap watch, but it may be of any make, provided it comes up to the standard. Stop watches, watches that tell the day of the week and such complicated novelties are barred. A key winder is not acceptable, nor is a watch that has been changed from a hunting case to an open face. An open faced watch is preferred, though a good hunting case watch is not turned down on the majority of roads.

"After the inspector has passed favorably upon the watch he makes out a slip to that effect and returns the watch to the railroad, along with the indorsing slip and a small card. On this card are a number of ruled spaces. Twice a month the railroad brings his watch and card to the inspector, who notes on the card whether the watch was fast or slow and how much, whether it has stopped or run down and whether or not he regulated it. In this manner the inspector can tell just what the watch is doing and what it needs.

"At the end of each six months the watch and the card are taken to the inspector, who makes a more careful examination of the watch, issues a new card to the railroad and sends in the old card to the headquarters of the road for which the man works. A duplicate of these cards is kept in a book by the inspector.

"The railroad watches that are most closely watched by the inspectors are those that are carried by engineers and firemen on those locomotives that are fitted with electric headlights on account of the danger of their becoming magnetized. This danger is realized by engineers, and many of them leave their watches in the cab while working about the headlight." — Indianapolis News.

The Colt and Its Rider.

Once upon a time a man tried to ride on the back of a young colt, which objected very much to his doing so, and there was quite a struggle between the two, with plunging by the colt and clinging by the man.

Finally the colt threw the man over his head, depositing him on the ground without injury. But the man, determined not to be defeated, pursued the colt and, capturing him, proceeded to again mount, with some difficulty.

There was another struggle, which ended as before—with the man prostrate on the ground—but this time he received severe injuries.

Moral.—Some persons don't know when they are well off. —New York Herald.

Same Thing.

"Encore! Encore!" persistently yelled the group of college students in the audience after little Eva had died her stage death and the curtain had fallen. "Encore! Encore!"

The Uncle Tom, one of the kind that needed no burned cork to emphasize the blackness of his face, stepped before the curtain in some perplexity.

"Gen'l'men," he said, "dere ain' gwine be no core!" —Chicago Tribune.

Larger Quantities.

Miss Gabbie—And she accused me of retailing gossip about the neighborhood.

Miss Sharpe—The idea!

Miss Gabbie—Positively insulting, isn't she?

Miss Sharpe—Yes, for you're really a wholesaler. —Philadelphia Press.

His Occupation.

"What have you ever done for your country?" asked the indignant citizen. "Never started to count up," answered the practical politician. "Too busy finding out what my country can do for me." —Washington Star.

Assumed at the Altar.

Tess—She's traveling under an assumed name now.

Jess—You don't say! What is it?

Tess—Her husband's. She was married yesterday. —Exchange.

For the Good of the Service.

Clara—He gave me an army and navy kiss.

Maud—What kind is that?

Clara—Oh, rapid fire! Sixty a minute! —Smart Set.

It doesn't follow that the man who boasts of his rural origin will enjoy being told that he looks like a farmer. —Ohio State Journal.

HOW TIME IS MADE.

Uncle Sam Regulates His Clocks by One of the Fixed Stars.

Strange as it may seem, Uncle Sam does not make use of the sun for reckoning time, but he turns his attention to some of the regular steady going stars, or "fixed stars," as they are called. Every clear night an astronomer with a big telescope looks at certain of these stars and makes his calculations, from which he can tell just when the sun would cross the seventy-fifth meridian. One of the great clocks in the observatory is called the transmitter, because it transmits or sends out the signal that keeps standard time. This clock is set and regulated by the star time, and then every day at three minutes and fifteen seconds before 12 a switch is turned on, and the beats of the pendulum of this clock are sent by electricity over the wires to the telegraph offices in Washington and New York. When the telegraph operators hear this sound on their instruments, they know that the noon signal is about to be sent out, and they at once begin to connect the telegraph wires with other towns and cities until in a minute or two the "tick, tick" of the clock at Washington is heard in hundreds of telegraph offices. The beats stop at ten seconds before 12, as a notice that the next "tick" will be the noon signal and so as to give the operators time to connect their wires with the standard time balls and clocks. There are time balls in a great many cities—usually on top of some prominent building, where they can easily be seen. The one at Washington is on the roof of the state, war and navy department building, at the top of a high pole, ready to drop the instant the signal comes over the wire. In the government offices at Washington and in many places in other cities there are large clocks connected with the observatory by electricity. These are so arranged that when the 12 o'clock signal is flashed over the wires the hands of each one of these clocks spring to 12, no matter what time the clock may show. In this way hundreds of clocks are set to the correct time each day.

Well, the moment the sun is supposed to cross the seventy-fifth meridian the telegraph instruments give a single tick, the time balls drop, the clocks begin to strike and everybody in the District knows it is 12 o'clock. —St. Nicholas.

PICKINGS FROM FICTION.

People get to like a soul, but a satisfactory hat makes an impression at first sight.—John Oliver Hobbes in "The Soul Hunters."

Human confidences must be mutual. It is only to God that man can continue telling, telling, telling and never getting a word in return.—Henry Seton Merriman in "The Vultures."

It is a fundamental law of a happy and useful life that we must keep sweet, for bitterness perverts the judgment and corrodes the heart.—Charles Frederic Goss in "The Loom of Life."

Fortunately, emotions primitively barbarous are not indicated by external labels or walks in the street would be fraught with strange discoveries.—Anthony Hope in "The Intrusions of Peggy."

There is no corrosive like wounded egotism. It eats into the moral nature, corrupting its victim, destroying all sense of proportion and blinding him to everything save his own passionate longing for reprisal.—James Creelman in "Eagle Blood."

Wasp's Method of Attack.

Belt in his "Naturalist in Nicaragua" draws attention to the methods of attack used by different species of wasps. One, accustomed to animals and not to man, takes care to crawl down the out-standing hair to the skin before inserting its sting, while others which live in the midst of human dwellings fly straight at a man's face. The first species, true to inherited instinct, when it attacks unfamiliar human beings attaches itself to their hair or their beards. But there must have been a time when the second species discovered that the face was the vulnerable part, and the discovery was the outcome of the action of brain.

Red Color in Battle.

The number of soldiers slain in battle depends a great deal on the color of their uniforms. The more conspicuous the helmet and jacket the better the target, and consequently the greater the mortality. Red attracts the eye most readily, and twelve men wearing that color are killed to seven in rifle green or six in blue or five in either brown, blue-gray or gray. —London Answers.

Philosophy Ancient and Modern.

"Epictetus said all philosophy lies in two words, 'restrain' and 'abstain'."

"Well, Epictetus may have had it figured out all right in his day, but in these times philosophy seems to be pretty fully expressed in the two words 'gain' and 'retain'." —Chicago Record-Herald.

Helpful Hubby.

Wife—I wish you would let me know what sort of a dinner to have tonight.

Husband—That's a good idea. Well, I shall either not be home at all or else I shall bring three or four friends with me. —Life.

Thoroughness.

"When I do anything," said the young man, "I believe in doing it thoroughly."

"Yes," answered his father, with a sigh, "especially when it comes to getting into debt." —Washington Star.

Nothing Doing.

Canvasser—I've a book here I'd like to show you.

Busy Man—I've a bulldog in the next room I'd like to show you. —Exchange.

Labor Column

Edited by Joseph E. Crandell.

G. W. Armstrong of Carpenters' Union No. 275, has been elected business agent of the Carpenters' District Union.

Carpenters' Union, 708, of West Newton, is holding a series of whist parties and dances, the fourth one being held tonight.

The representative convention for the amalgamation of the dual national team drivers' unions will be held in August.

National Lead Burners and Chemical Plumbers' Union, 2, will hold its annual meeting at the American House in Boston Saturday.

There is a possibility of the Garment Workers' national convention being held in Boston instead of Indianapolis, as was first voted.

Denmark had one trade union in 1891. In 1900 it had 1195, with 96,295 members. It is estimated it now has 2000, with 200,000 members.

Richard F. King, formerly secretary of Rubbers Workers' Union, 8622, has received a commission as district organizer for the American Federation of Labor.

The A. F. of L. gained 283,827 members its last fiscal year. This gain was larger than the total number of members six years ago. The membership now exceeds 1,500,000.

The International Typographical union issued 101 new charters and gained 2000 members during the year. It now has 43,000 members.

There were 1658 strikes in the United States last year, involving 412,871 persons. Nearly 80 percent of those involved benefited to some extent.

The labor troubles in Lynn between the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union and the Knights of Labor, looks like a victory for the Boot and Shoe Workers' Union.

The strike of the Wagon and Carriage Workers' Union at Amesbury, remains the same. The strikers stand firm and the manufacturers are unable to get men to fill their places.

Pennsylvania barbers have asked the legislature for a law licensing barbers and stringent sanitary regulations. A state examination for licenses is proposed.

In Massachusetts there are now more than 500,000 engaged in the manufacturing industries. In cotton mills 80,000 are employed, in boot and shoe works 73,000, in the clothing trades 45,000 and in the building lines 70,000.

Three hundred shoemakers who struck for higher wages in Philadelphia in 1796, were the first workmen to adopt such tactics in this country. The first railroad strike occurred in 1877.

A meeting of the New England Conference Board of Iron Molders, was held in Fall River last Sunday and Monday, for the purpose of devising ways for pushing their union label.

An important business meeting of Carpenters' Union, 1227, of Waltham, was held in Shepherd's hall, Waltham, last Friday evening. Several new members were admitted.

The annual convention of the representatives of the industrial insurance agents' unions of Boston, New Bedford, Providence, Pawtucket, Toledo and Peoria, will be held at New Bedford Saturday. The purpose is to form an international industrial insurance agents' union and apply for a charter from the American Federation of Labor.

Bricklayers and Masons' International Union will submit the question of affiliating with the A. F. of L. to a referendum vote in June. The union has 80,000 members and more than $800,000 in its treasury. And it seems to be the general opinion that the union will eventually be affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The following officers have been elected and installed by the Natick Carpenters' Union No. 847, for the next six months: President, Henry Pray; vice-president, Asa Leavitt; financial secretary, Frank Pulsifer; recording secretary, Nelson Carter; treasurer, Arthur McCabe; conductor, Hiram Rogers; warden, Nelse Swinson.

At the last meeting of Iron Molders' Union, 179, the following officers were installed: President, Peter Ambrose; vice-president, Walter Matthews; financial secretary, Henry Atwood; recording secretary, W. E. Norcross; treasurer, Fred Gould; inductor, L. Wright; door-keeper, A. McDonald; trustees, C. H. Madden, William Aubrey and Henry Ambrose.

Representative James F. Carey introduced in the legislature last Monday, a number of measures of interest to labor. One petition is to legalize peaceful communications with applicants for positions during strikes, lockouts, etc.; another to provide that employers must, in advertising for help during strikes and lockouts, state that such strike and lockout exists; and yet another that in cases of contempt of court occurring as a result of strikes and lockouts, the defendant shall have the right to trial by jury.

At a recent meeting of West Newton Carpenters' Union No. 708, the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months: President, Frank Ellis; vice-president, E. P. Kibbie; recording secretary, H. R. Robbler; financial secretary, J. H. Christie; treasurer, R. M. Fewster; conductor, I. R. Melvin; warden, Thomas Brown; trustees, C. L. Hathaway and J. W. Kimball; auditors, J. H. Manter and M. E. Beardsley. The regular meetings of this union are held every Friday evening in A. O. U. W. hall, West Newton.

A COPY OF THE KORAN.

How a Foreigner Must Go About Purchasing It in Stamboul.

In Stamboul there are several book-stores the proprietors of which are either Persians, Arabians, Abyssinians or Turks. Not in the frequented streets are these stores, but in dark and narrow alleys. The books in them comprise various editions of the Koran translated into all the languages of the Orient; theological and historical treatises on the Koran in the Turkish, Persian and Arabic tongues, annals which clearly prove that all the sultans of the Ottoman dynasty were prodigies of genius and sanctity; marvelous fairy tales and stories of adventure, which are more or less fantastic and the sole object of which is to prove that no one should be considered honest, intelligent or happy unless he is a Turkish Mussulman, unless he venerates the sultan, unless he lives in Stamboul all his life without ever quitting it even for a day and unless he regards as utterly fabulous all that he hears about Europe.

A Mussulman is forbidden to sell a copy of the Koran, and therefore a foreigner who desires to purchase the sacred book must proceed as follows: Go into the bookstore, having on your face as pious an expression as possible, and say to the proprietor:

"I shall consider myself eternally indebted to you if you will present me with a copy of the Koran."

"As I am a devout believer," the proprietor will answer, "I think it my duty to assist any unbeliever who desires to instruct himself in our law. Moreover, you seem to be a serious man, and I am convinced that it is not vain curiosity which prompts you to obtain a copy of the Koran, but a sincere desire to study our religion. Therefore I am willing to make you a present of this copy, though I value it highly, for I paid a good price for it."

You will then put the book in your pocket, and a minute or two later the proprietor will say, "I shall consider myself eternally your debtor if you will make me a present of —," naming a certain sum. If you think the price too high, you may bargain with him, but you must take care not to make the slightest allusion to the copy of the Koran in your pocket, for in disposing of it the proprietor has clearly broken the law, and it would not be good policy for you to remind him of that fact.

EARLY MILLIONAIRES.

Apicius expended in gluttony $2,000,000.

Esopis paid for a single dish $400,000.

Caligula spent for one supper $400,000.

Hellogabalus spent for one meal $100,000.

Lucullus usually paid $100,000 for a repast.

The philosopher Seneca had a fortune of $12,500,000.

Lentulus, the soothsayer, had a fortune of $16,500,000.

The sum of $2,000,000 was paid for the house of Antony.

Cesar before he entered upon any office owed nearly $11,000,000.

Tiberius at his death left $118,125,000, which Caligula spent in less than ten months.

Croesus possessed in landed property a fortune equal to $8,000,000, besides a large sum of money, slaves and furniture.

Antony owed $1,500,000 at the time of March, paid it before the calends of April and squandered $73,500,000 of the public money.

THE SERVANT PROBLEM NOT NEW.

Students of household management will learn with satisfaction that in 1506 many of the evils now to be complained of were distinctly recognized. Some of the more curious fines which were imposed by a country gentleman upon offending servants were a penny for leaving a door open, missing prayers, leaving beds unmade after 8 (presumably a. m.), and cooks could only have followers at the rate of a penny fine for each one. A curious custom seems to have then existed that entree to the house was denied during the family meals, and as the fine for allowing a breach of this custom was heavy it may be presumed that the sin was esteemed great.

TAKING NO CHANCES.

"Now, Freddie, go and kiss your little sweetheart and make it up," said Freddie's mother.

"No, I won't."

"Go and tell her how much you love her and how sorry you are."

"No, I won't. Pa says he got into a breach of promise case by telling a girl that and had to marry the old thing. I won't run any risks, I won't." —London Tit-Bits.

A MODERN ANANIAS.

Mrs. Mateland—Henry, I wonder if you love me as much as you used to love me before we were married. You never say the pretty things to me that you did in those days.

Mr. Mateland—That's because I love you more than I did then, dear. I love you too much now to lie to you, you know. —Boston Transcript.

WAS ECONOMICALLY INCLINED.

Wantanno—And is your friend strong in the faculty known as "saving common sense?"

Duzno—Remarkably so. When it comes to saving common sense, he is a regular miser. I never knew him to use a particle of it in my life. —Baltimore American.

If you argue with a fool, he will get the best of you. Theories in the hands of a fool are always stronger than facts in the hands of a man of sense. —Athl-son Globe.

Sole agency for this town at the store of
GEO. F. BLACK, Pharmacist.

W. C. T. U. POINTERS.

Eleven states have passed laws against cigarette smoking.

The fight against the cigarette is raging throughout the schools of England and Scotland.

Sir Thomas Lipton has entered the list of employers who refuse work to the cigarette user.

Twenty-eight prominent business houses in Detroit, Mich., forbid employees under the age of twenty-one to smoke cigarettes, under penalty of dismissal.

A Chicago boy confessed that out of ten places to which he had applied for work the head of not one had neglected to ask him if he smoked cigarettes.

NARCOTICS.

Any drug which benumbs the sense of pain and fatigue and lessens the action and strength of the cells, is a narcotic. Narcotics are sometimes erroneously called stimulants. The common peculiarity of all narcotics is that as soon as the deadening effects have passed, the weakness of the body being all the more apparent, a strong desire for more of the drug is felt, and thus habits are formed.

AS OIL TO FIRE.

"One might as well advocate the use of kerosene in fighting fire as the use of alcoholic drink in fighting intemperance," pertinently remarks a writer in "The Chicago Daily News." It would put the fire out about as quick as government beer would make a good, sober private soldier.

TACTICS OF THE ENEMY.

From the alarming statements of the "startling increase of crime," "continual trouble in army posts," "frequent desertions," etc., etc., resulting, we are told, from the abolishment of beer from the army canteen, one might be led to suppose that our soldier boys are from the drinking and degenerate classes. The implication is that, deprived of canteen beer, their appetites for liquor become so uncontrollable that they absent themselves without leave in order to gratify it at outside dives; that unless "under the watchful eye of their officers" they hasten to get drunk, and while drunk "commit numerous and revolting crimes." How many of these newspaper utterances are "ads" paid for by the beer interest?

Mrs. Hicksy (who is entertaining her little son's playmate, aged five, at dinner) "Willie can you cut your own meat?"

Willie (who is struggling with a piece on his plate) "Yes, thank you" (with a desperate saw at the beef). "I've cut quite as tough meat as this at home."

"Oh, Maggie, if I could only make myself believe that he loves me for myself, and not because me mudder keeps er fruit stand!"

Mean old man—I don't believe your story, nor believe that you are blind. Prove it."

Beggar—"If I wasn't blind I never would have asked you for assistance."

Little Dolly—"Why is the hour-glass made so small in the middle?"

Little Elsie—"To show the waist of time, dear."

Jaggies—"I understand he's a golf enthusiast. Has he broken any records?"

Waggies—"No. He never broke anything but the Sabbath."

THIS IS THE FAMOUS ROMOC THE MEDICINE MADE FROM A ROCK NATURE'S MOST STUPENDOUS TRIUMPH MAN'S GRANDEST DISCOVERY

AN UNIMPAIRED NATURAL PRODUCT WHICH WILL UNFAILINGLY SUBDUCE RHEUMATISM, INDIGESTION, BLOOD DISORDERS, AND A GREAT VARIETY OF COMPLICATIONS OF THESE TROUBLES

PRICE $1 PER BOTTLE

ASK FOR BOOKLET GETTING CLOSE TO NATURE

LOCAL AGENT FOR ROMOC.

A BENEVOLENT OFFER.

WHICH IS OF GREAT INTEREST TO ALL SUFFERING WOMEN.

Mr. Editor:—I have learned of a very simple home treatment which is of interest to every suffering woman, as it will positively cure any case of leucorrhoea, painful periods, displacements or irregularities, and I would be pleased to have you inform your lady readers that I have decided to send it out free to all, as I feel it my duty to place it in the hands of every suffering woman. I had the pleasure of hearing from thousands of ladies in reply to my notice last year and I am now receiving many letters daily thanking me for the perfect health they have regained through my advice. I can refer almost any lady to some one in her locality who has been blessed by this treatment, and I hope all who are in need of such relief will write to me at once, for as I send the treatment free it will cost nothing to be convinced of its merits.

It should be in the hands of every suffering woman and all who wish the treatment should not delay, address at once,

MABEL E. RUSH,
Box 95, Joliet, Ill.

The publishers of this paper take pleasure in recommending that every woman who is in need of such treatment should avail herself of this offer at once, as certainly such a benevolent offer is worthy of attention.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE PATENTS TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co, 361 Broadway, New York
Office 25 F ST., Washington, D. C.

WE PROMPTLY OBTAIN U. S. AND FOREIGN PATENTS

Send model, sketch or photo of invention for free report on patentability. For free booklet "How to Secure TRADE-MARKS" write to

CASNOW & Co.
Opposite U. S. Patent Office
WASHINGTON D. C.

WHY DONT YOU ADVERTISE?

The Enterprise

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—For one year $1.50. Trial for six months, 50 cents, strictly in advance.

A failure to notify a discontinuance at the end of the term subscribed for, will be considered a wish to continue the paper.

Any person sending us five new cash subscribers for one year will be entitled to the Enterprise for one year, for his trouble.

Advertisers and others will please take notice that we go to press regularly every Wednesday afternoon and cannot insure the insertion of long communications after Tuesday noon.

Communications for insertion must be authenticated by the name and address of the writer; it is necessary for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

Notices of local entertainments to which admission is charged must be paid for at regular rates.

LEXINGTON

BURTON HOLMES' LECTURES AT THE TREMONT TEMPLE.

The Burton Holmes' Lectures which have grown rapidly in popular favor in Boston since the first appearance of this talented successor of John L. Stoddard will begin at Tremont Temple on Feb. 18th. Mr. Holmes spent last summer in Europe and the present series is the direct result of these European wanderings. The subjects of the four lectures to be given are: "Portugal, a land of Loveliness," "Denmark, Through Hamlet's Country in a Motor-Car," "Sweden, the Capital, the Country, and the Canals," and "Norway, the Land of the Midnight Sun," the entire series bearing the comprehensive title of "From Gibraltar to the North Cape." These lectures are to be given in the order above at 2.30 in the afternoon and at 8 in the evening, on Wednesday, Feb. 18th, Saturday, Feb. 21st, Wednesday, Feb. 25th, and Saturday, Feb. 28th, the same lecture being repeated in the evening as was given in the afternoon. As heretofore, all of these will be magnificently illustrated with colored stereoscopic views, moving colored panoramas (a new feature in colored illustration) and an unusually fine collection of motion pictures, all of which are from negatives made by Mr. Holmes and his assistant, Mr. Oscar Bennett Depue, last summer. In the cities of the West, from the Pacific Coast to Chicago, this series has proved the most successful, artistically and financially, of any as yet given by Mr. Holmes. Sale of seats for the course will begin at Tremont Temple, Monday, Feb. 9th.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"The Pedler" is the name of the new four act comedy drama at the Grand Opera House next week.

It serves to introduce Joe Welch in a stellar capacity. This play was written by Hal Reid, the author of "Human Hearts," and is said to be the best of the plays turned out by his fertile pen.

The play is replete with scenes of pathos, as well as high-class comedy, which engaged the auditor from the rise to the fall of the curtain. The scenery is by Harley Merry, and shows vivid representations of Herald Square, Pell street, and other well-known New York localities. The company supporting Mr. Welch have all been chosen for their special fitness to portray the role assumed.

Matinees will be given as usual on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

BOSTON MUSIC HALL.

Blaney's best American melodrama, "Across the Pacific," will be the attraction at the Boston Music Hall next week.

There is enough action in this play to suit the desires of every kind of theatre goer, humor and pathos, laughter and tears are intermingled in pleasant harmony. But the comedy element of the play is by far the greater and this to the liking of all lovers of good clean fun. The popular little comedian, Harry Clay Blaney, who is known in the play as "Willie Live," a reporter with a camera "always on the spot" to add a scene to his new play with a thrilling snap-shot, is the central figure of the production.

ARLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Arlington High School was scheduled to play Roxbury Latin School on Spy Pond last Saturday, but the visiting team failed to show up.

The entertainment under the auspices of the Athletic Association of the Arlington High School, takes place in the Town Hall, Friday evening, February 27th. Dancing will follow an entertainment by the Elmwood Male Quartet, for which Custer's Orchestra will furnish the music.

ARLINGTON BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Christian Endeavor meeting at the church last Sunday evening was one of unusual interest being led by the President, Mr. Frank White, topic, "Decide To-day."

The pastor Rev. C. H. Watson, preached in the morning on "The Common-places of Public Worship," and the music was unusually good.

Friday evening at 7.30, will be the devotional meeting in the Chapel, topic, "Children of the Covenant."

Next Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the Young Ladies' Mission Circle, will meet with Miss H. Pricilla Russell, 1108, Massachusetts avenue.

Next Sunday morning, Rev. C. H. Watson will exchange pulpits with Rev. Howard B. Grose of Jamaica Plain.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH.

Some of the ladies of the church met with Mrs. Frank Frost on Old Mystic street, Monday afternoon, to prepare for their coming fair.

The tickets for the fair are now on sale. It will take place Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, March 3, 4 and 5. There will be a supper served from 6 to 8 each evening. It will be a college fair, each booth being draped with the colors and college flag.

Rev. A. J. Toralf of Melrose preached in the absence of Rev. Fister last Sunday morning.

ARLINGTON.

Mr. William Cranston of Grove street, is very ill and threatened with pneumonia.

Charles V. Marsh Camp S. of V. will make a fraternal visitation to camp at Medford Centre next Thursday evening.

Mrs. Warren Beers of Broadway, was called to Sanford, Me., Monday, by the sudden illness of her sister.

Prof. Mathers, the new teacher at the High school, who is substituting for Miss Cutler, has been ill for some days and unable to attend to his classes.

Arthur Seavey of Court street is ill with scarlet fever, he has been attending the first grade of the Russell School.

F. G. Sutcliffe, although some better is still confined to his home on Wellington street.

Mrs. Clara Kimbal entertained the Sunshine Club at her home on Swan Place, yesterday afternoon, Wednesday, February 4.

The usual services incident to Candlemas Day were held at St. Agnes Church on Monday.

Hiram Lodge, A. F. & A. M. will have a Ladies Night in Associates Hall, Tuesday evening, February 10.

Bethel Lodge I. O. O. F. are contemplating repeating their recent Minstrels in Town Hall Lexington, at a future date.

Probably the largest crowd of skaters this year was on Spy Pond Sunday last. The ice was in good condition and the weather was perfect.

Mrs. Myron Taylor of Maple street underwent a successful operation on Saturday last, at the Carney Hospital, in South Boston.

St. Agnes Church will hold a whist party and dance in the Town Hall next Tuesday evening, February 10th. Whist 8 to 10 and dancing following till 1.

On Feb. 10 and 11, the department convention of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held in Peoples Temple, Boston, when there will be an election of officers for the year.

Theodore Schnamb left town on Wednesday of last week for Florida, where he will make an extended visit at Winter Haven. His brother and wife of Chicago are spending the winter at this place.

On February 9, a reception is to be tendered Mrs. Lyman, the retiring department president of the Woman's Relief Corps, in Memorial Hall, on Broadway, South Boston. Admission only by invitation.

The Arlington Woman's Club has been fortunate in securing Miss Helen A. Brooks for their next meeting, who will speak on "Old French Music." Meeting will be held as usual on Thursday afternoon, February 5.

Monday was Candlemas Day. According to the old saying, "If Candlemas be clear and bright, winter takes an early flight," but as Monday was dull, warm and rainy we must look for another long stretch of our glorious (?) New England winter weather.

Samuel E. Kimball, the superintendent of streets arrived home from Texas, Monday noon, where he and his wife have been visiting their daughter Mrs. Nelson Crosby. Mrs. Kimball will remain until the first of April when Mrs. Crosby and children will come on to spend the summer with her.

The local store keeper was a little too enterprising when he posted the bulletin that Ex-Gov. John D. Long was dead last Friday afternoon, but considering the great personal friendship of the two, no doubt he is congratulating himself he was wrong.

Mrs. Franklin W. Mann of Medford, is able to be out again after her recent injuries, received on the knee from a runaway accident at Arlington, two weeks ago. She is obliged to be very careful about walking for fear of further trouble with her knee.—Mercury-Citizen.

The musical programme at the Pleasant Street Congregational church next Sunday will be: Prelude, Mendelssohn; anthem, "Cantate Domino," Holden; offertory, "The Swan," St. Saens; duett for soprano and alto, "As Pans the Heart," Smart; anthem, "Lovely Apper," Gounod; postlude, Gade.

Correcting an error in the Enterprise, it is the retiring Annual President, Mrs. Ludsky Taylor, who is to be given the reception by the Woman's Relief Corps and staff in South Boston on February 9, instead of Mrs. Lyman, the department president, as stated in the last issue.

The ladies of the Alliance connected with the Unitarian Church are planning to hold a fair in the vestry Wednesday, Feb. 25, afternoon and evening. Mrs. S. G. Damon has kindly opened her home on Broadway, to the ladies of the Alliance for their meetings, which occur every Monday to prepare for this fair. The regular monthly meeting is still held at the church as there is always a large gathering present.

The Consolidated Ice Company harvested a large part of their season's crop of ice on Spy Pond last Sunday, having a very large gang of men at work. During the fog of last week the ice melted considerably so that which was cut Sunday was not as thick as that cut by the Cambridge Ice Co. a week or so previous. The new ice house although not nearly completed used to store the ice and being Sunday a great many people journeyed to the pond to watch the interesting work of marking, cutting and housing the ice.

A MOTHER'S RECOMMENDATION.

I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a number of years and have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best remedy for coughs, colds and croup I have ever used in my family. I have not words to express my confidence in this remedy.—Mrs. J. A. Moore, North Star, Mich. For sale by Laing's Drug Store, corner of Main and Spring streets.

TELEPHONE FIRE ALARM SERVICE.

The representative of the Enterprise was in error last week in stating that an alarm for any box could be rung in from the nearest engine or hose house. The alarm can only be rung in from the Central Hose Company's house where apparatus has been installed, to enable the firemen when receiving an alarm by telephone to sound the alarm of the box nearest the fire from the box at the hose house. However as the special fire call by phone when rung by the operator at the Telephone Exchange calls all hose houses simultaneously, the firemen rush to the phone and each and every company get the information of the fire at once and are prepared in case of need. Since our article last week there has been no little surprise manifested by citizens, among them some of the more recent subscribers to the telephone service who were uninformed on this matter, and once more the Enterprise will state for the information of others that by the arrangements that have been perfected by Supt. LeBaron of the Fire Alarm Service, the telephone subscribers are enabled to call the Central fire station in case of fire and give the alarm, avoiding the trouble and saving the time by turning in an alarm from a regular box. When it is considered that there is a telephone to every twenty of the population, it is a very easy matter to get at a telephone in nearly every fire.

AMONG THE BOWLERS.

In the Mystic Valley league the last week is now on, but at the beginning five teams had a chance to win out, Charlestown led, but Arlington Boat Club and Calumet are only one win behind and only one win behind them are Kernwood and Towanda, side by side. Last week Arlington took two out of three from the Kernwood team although the latter's total was 2650 against 2601 for A. B. C. Orne of Kernwood is still the individual leader with Richardson of Calumet second. Wheeler of Arlington Boat Club is 6th, Whittemore 9th, Rankin 16th and Puffer 17th.

In the Gilt Edge series Arlington Boat Club is still solid in last place. A. B. C. lost 2 out of 3 last week to its old rival Newtowne, although she managed to win the first game by 62 pins. Newtowne took the second by 70 pins and the third was a close one, Arlington finally losing by 18 pins.

Charlestown holds first place in this series, Newtowne and Commercial tied for second. Hales of Newtowne is once more leader in the individual averages with Tower of Commercial second. Durgin of A. B. C. is 12th, Rugg 14th and Dodge 17th.

Last night Arlington was scheduled to roll at 999th A. A. in the Mystic Valley league and tonight bowls at Charlestown in the Massachusetts Amateur.

A BRILLIANT ENTERTAINMENT.

Miss Gordon Walker of Arlington, will be the bright particular star at the forthcoming entertainment in the New Century Building Boston, on the evening of Thursday Feb. 19, when she will give a monologue with harp accompaniment. Miss Walker will be associated on the program with an exceptional array of professional talent, including Miss Gertrude Roosevelt, the clever young society actress of Cambridge, Mr. U. S. Kerr, Mrs. Cade (Clayton Thomas), Miss Ricker, soloists, Miss Enneking, violinist, Mr. G. H. Galpin whistling soloist, and others who are giving their services in a worthy cause. Miss Brazier of Trinity Court, Boston, has the affair in charge and the tickets.

A group of dainty young girls will usher and distribute the souvenir programs, which will bear a portrait of the "Rose of Arlington."

Mrs. Nellie Baldwin Farmer of Boston, is a patroness and subscriber. Among others are Mrs. Curtis Guild, Mrs. Thomas Lawson, Mrs. Montgomery Sears, Mrs. Charles S. Sargent, Col. and Mrs. James A. Frye, Gen. F. H. Appleton, Col. John L. Tiernon U. S. A., Mrs. E. S. Converse, Rev. E. A. Horton, Mrs. Donald McLean, Mrs. Isabella Potter, Mrs. A. L. Mason, Miss Harriet Arline Shaw and others well known.

Several parties are forming to attend, and seats will be reserved on application to Miss Brazier whose skill in arranging such large affairs gives confidence to all. Tickets may be obtained at the New Century Building. Miss Walker will be heard to exceptional advantage, and an opportunity will be given for sociability during the evening.

AT HOME.

Tuesday evening there were two "At Homes," of recently married young people of Arlington. At 55 Academy street Mr. and Mrs. Frank Norwood Bott held their first wedding "At Home," friends having the opportunity of meeting Mrs. Bott who was Miss Mary Morrill of St. Louis, Mo. The young couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bott, senior. Caterer Hardy served an elaborate spread in the dining room, where Mrs. William H. N. Francis and Mrs. William G. Rice presided at the handsomely set table. In an adjoining room tea and coffee were served, Misses Churchill and Therese Norton pouring. The next "At Home" of Mr. and Mrs. Bott is Tuesday evening, February 17.

In their beautiful little home at 31 Jason street, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Blake Wood were "at home" to their friends and many availed themselves of the opportunity of calling on them. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Wood most informally while delicious refreshments were served, Mrs. Harold L. Frost presiding over the dainty table. Mr. and Mrs. Wood's "at homes," are the Tuesday evenings in February.

When you feel blue and that everything goes wrong, take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will cleanse and invigorate your stomach, regulate your bowels, give you a relish for your food and make you feel that this old world is a good place to live. For sale by Laing's Drug Store, corner of Main and Spring streets.

SMILE AS YOU GO.

Everybody Loves the Man With a Shining Countenance.

Brighter than the most brilliant of gems, electrifying with a radiance that does not dazzle so much as it calls forth a reflection of brightness, is the shining countenance.

The soul of each man is a sun of infinite energy and glorious light. But how few allow themselves to shine! How few faces are lit up with their possible divine life!

Take your thoughts away from the swamps of fear and evil, center them on the ideals of faith and love, on good intentions for others, and your countenance is at once illuminated.

Look in a mirror, and you shall see that my words are true. Absolve yourself of all troubles, be peaceful, be still, cease all your repining; then your countenance will shine.

That such an instantaneous physical change can take place by a change of thought suggests what power there is in a renewed habit of thought, a habit created by repeated conscious reposition of efforts of calm, concentrated thinking in line with the ideal.

Not only is the countenance changed by a bright thought, but the whole body. The atoms are so many vortices of ether, and the central force of each is the mind.

A shining countenance is a smiling countenance. Look on life rightly, and you cannot but be pleased. Then you will smile, you will laugh with joy, because of life's possibilities.

You have perhaps desired to reach greater heights of power. You will reach them easier if you will but smile as you go.

There is every reason why the heart should be glad, and your love for others will show this so. This is the sunshine that expresses itself in your countenance. The mere fact of loving drives away fear and darkness. All false conceptions of duty, the conclusions of a biased reasoning, vanish at the appearance of love.

Every one loves the sunny days, and every one loves the man whose soul or individual sun shines through his face.

Such a man will be trusted wherever he is. He is an interpreter of life; he will intuitively grasp the meaning of things; he will be welcomed everywhere; he will recognize all and he will be recognized by all; he will be received as the Son of Man, a true exemplar of his race, a leader in the evolution of humanity; he will be an encouragement and an incentive to all.

A shining countenance is first of all an immediate phenomenon expressive of the proof of right thinking, and the same source of this illustration contains the potency of completely changing character, body, surroundings, of influencing the person, the community, the race, of issuing forth from its infinite, solar center great stream of life, giving out more vigor, raising the whole realm of existence to the higher plane.—Fred Barry.

Too Generous.

"What was the trouble between Arabella and her young man that they gave up the idea of marrying?" asked a former resident of Bushby.

"Arabella was always techy," said the young lady's aunt, with impersonal calmness, "and that was the trouble—that and her being so literal. It's a terrible resky combination of qualities."

"They kept having hitches all along, but come Christmas time Albert asked her right up and down what she wanted, for fear of making the wrong choice, and she said, 'You can give me enough candy to fill my slipper,' looking at him real coy."

"Well, her feet aren't as small as some, but that wasn't his idea. 'Twas because he's generous and not literal. He sent her a five pound box, poor, deluded critter, and she up and broke the engagement, and his little sister ate the candy and enjoyed it, by what I hear."—Youth's Companion.

In a Critical Attitude.

Some people seem to be born in an unhappy frame of mind. They cannot admire excellency without making some comment on deficiencies. With them the "times are always out of joint." They are simply in a critical attitude, and nothing except grumbling will satisfy their morbid condition, says the Pittsburg Press. They remind one very strikingly of the old lady who, when she was asked how she felt, replied that she felt better, but that when she felt better she always felt worse, as she knew if she felt better she was going to have a worse spell again.

The Curate's Compliment.

In a west end church on a recent Sunday the junior curate was preaching on reasons for coming to church. "Some people," he remarked, "come to church for no better reason than to show off their best clothes." Then he paused and glanced thoughtfully over his audience. "I am thankful to see, dear friends," he added, "that none of you has come here for that reason."—London Telegraph.

Penalty of Laziness.

Head of Department—What's this lying on my desk? The last dunning letter received from my tailor, duly initialed by all my clerks! Oh, dear, what have I done? Actually sent it round to be duly noted without taking the trouble to look at it!—Fliegende Blätter.

His Maxim.

"It's always well to be on the safe side," mused the burglar, with a glow of satisfaction, as he crawled into the bank through the opening in the wall.—New York Times.

Any person attending a spiritualistic seance in Bohemia is liable to a fine of $40.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS.

Rev. Father Murphy is to be absent from his parish for a few weeks.

Mrs. R. H. Meikle has been visiting at her former home in Hartford, Ct.

Last week Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Partridge attended the annual reunion and dinner of the Vermont Association, held at Hotel Vendome.

The young people of the Christian Endeavor society connected with the Baptist Church, held a book social at the home of Neil Campbell on Lowell Court, Monday evening. Many books were represented and much fun derived from guessing of the titles.

The basket-ball team of the Young Men's League has been formed as follows: Geo. Dwelley, Right Back; Millet Lloyd, Left Back; Scott Neely, Centre, Capt. Warren Lusk, Right forward; Robert Ford, Left forward; Horn, substitute.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Hawthorne Literary Club met with Miss Clara Cann on Crescent Hill avenue, last Tuesday evening, the subject being, "Hawthorne," which was carefully studied under the instructor, Rev. Geo. W. McCombe's supervision. The meeting next week will be held with Miss Eva Frazer, on Lowell Place and the life of "Dickens" will be taken up. So far these meetings have proved helpful, as well as beneficial, and the young people have very pleasant times.

Thursday evening, January 29, occurred the annual roll-call of the church, when members and friends assembled at the church. Those not able to be present sent messages and the spirit of the work was manifested. A history of the church was given which was of great interest to the new members. The order of exercises following the opening services was: Our church, the past, Mr. H. Frazer; Roll-call, Church Clerk, B. F. Cann; Hymn, Congregation. Our church, the present, Deacon Finley. Our church, the future, Deacon Trefethen. Ladies Aid Society, Mrs. Trefethen; Sunday School, Mr. B. F. Cann; Home Department, Mrs. Richards; Y. P. S. C. E., Mr. Jardine; Juniors, Mrs. M. P. Dickie; Quartett selection.

Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed when all had a pleasant time, after which the evening closed with all joining in singing, "Blest be the Tie that Binds." A quartett from the Immanuel Church of Cambridge furnished the music.

Rev. G. W. McCombe was in Rockport on Tuesday, Feb. 3, when he was one of the speakers at the installation of Rev. W. Clements, the new elected pastor of the First Baptist Church of that town.

The officers of the Christian Endeavor society are as follows: President, Miss Thompson; Vice President, Joseph Burr; Recording Secretary, S. Bacon; Corresponding Secretary, Annie Borden; Treasurer, Bell Finley.

LUMBER...

—FOR ALL PURPOSES—

Lexington Lumber Co.,
Telephone 48. LEXINGTON.

IS YOUR COFFEE SATISFACTORY?

A Perfect cup of coffee does much to make a Perfect breakfast and to complete a Perfect dinner. We use great care in the selection and in the proper handling of our coffees. These coffees are roasted daily and ground to order at time of purchase, thereby insuring freshness.

Monogram Mocha and Java (three lbs. for $1.00)	35c
Mocha and Java (usually sold for best)	30c
Pan-American Blend, (a splendid blend of the choicest Pan-American coffees)	25c
North Union Blend, "Registered"	20c
(Equal to any 25c coffee on the market except our Pan-American)
South American Coffee	15c
(Equal to any of the so-called Mocha and Java Coffees sold at 30c per lb.)
After-Dinner Coffee	40c
Maleberry Coffee	35c
(The strongest and most aromatic coffee grown.)
Old Government Java	25c
Arabian Mocha	30c
We only ask you to try one pound; you will buy the next one without being asked.

WARREN F. WITHERELL CO.,

GROCERS AND IMPORTERS.

91 CAUSEWAY STREET, OPPOSITE NORTH UNION STATION. BOSTON, MASS.

BOSTON & MAINE TIME TABLE

Winter Arrangement.

IN EFFECT OCTOBER 13 1902.

TO BOSTON.

Lexington—5.40, 5.56, 6.26, 6.56, 7.26, 7.56, 8.21, 8.42, 10.25, a. m.; 12.09, 1.00, 2.09, 3.45, 4.15, 4.49, 5.10, 6.36, 8.09, 9.09, 10.09, p. m. Sunday, 9.14, a. m. 4.25 p. m.

Arlington Heights—5.48, 6.05, 6.35, 7.04, 7.34, 8.04, 8.37, 8.53, 10.32 a. m. 12.18, 1.10, 2.18, 3.54, 4.24, 4.45, 5.19, 6.47, 8.18, 9.18, 10.18 p. m. Sunday 9.24 a. m. 4.35 p. m.

Brattle—5.50, 6.08, 6.38, 7.06, 8.06, 8.56, 10.34 a. m.; 12.20, 1.12, 2.20, 3.56, 4.48, 5.21, 6.50, 8.20, 9.20, 10.20 p. m. Sundays, 9.27 a. m. 4.58 p. m.

Arlington—5.53, 6.12, 6.42, 7.09, 7.12, 7.39, 7.48, 7.56, 8.09, 8.16, 8.41, 9.00, 10.37 a. m. 12.23, 1.15, 2.23, 3.59, 4.27, 4.51, 5.24, 5.53, 6.22, 6.53, 6.56, 7.15, 8.25, 9.25, 10.25, p. m. Sundays, 9.30 a. m.; 4.46 p. m.

Lake Street—5.55, 6.15, 6.45, 7.15, 7.46, 7.56, 8.19, 8.30, 8.39, a. m.; 12.25, 1.17, 2.25, 4.01, 5.27, 5.56, 6.24, 6.59, 7.18, 8.25, 9.25, 10.25, p. m. Sundays, 9.33 a. m.; 4.43 p. m.

FROM BOSTON.

Lexington—7.17, 8.17, 9.09, 10.17, 11.17, a. m.; 12.17, 1.47, 2.47, 3.47, 4.47, 5.17, 5.53, 5.47, 6.17, 7.04, 7.56, 9.15, 10.20, 11.30, p. m. Sundays, 12.50, 6.00 p. m.

Arlington Heights—7.17, 8.17, 9.09, 10.17, 11.17, a. m.; 12.17, 1.47, 2.47, 3.47, 4.47, 5.17, 5.53, 5.47, 6.17, 7.04, 7.56, 9.15, 10.20, 11.30, p. m. Sundays, 12.50, 6.00 p. m.

Brattle—7.17, 8.17, 9.09, 10.17, a. m.; 12.17, 1.47, 2.47, 3.47, 4.47, 5.17, 5.53, 5.47, 6.17, 7.04, 7.56, 9.15, 10.20, 11.30, p. m. Sundays, 12.50, 6.00 p. m.

Arlington—6.42, 7.00, 7.17, 7.29, 7.46, 8.17, 9.09, 10.17, 11.17, a. m.; 12.17, 1.47, 2.47, 3.47, 4.47, 5.17, 5.53, 5.47, 6.17, 7.04, 7.56, 9.15, 10.20, 11.30, p. m. Sundays, 12.50, 6.00 p. m.

Lake Street—7.17, 8.17, 9.09, 10.17, 11.17, a. m.; 12.17, 1.47, 2.47, 3.47, 4.47, 5.17, 5.53, 5.47, 6.17, 7.04, 7.56, 9.15, 10.20, 11.30, p. m. Sundays, 12.50, 6.00 p. m.

*Train stops only on signal, or to leave passengers on notice to the conductor.

D. J. FLANDERS,

General Pass. and Ticket Agent.

Look at this Beautiful Bunch OF

Real Estate

1. The old Wellington Place (104 acres), corner Concord avenue and Pleasant street, East Lexington.
2. The Puffer Place, on Concord Hill (9 acres).
3. 26250 feet of land (175 ft. front and 150 ft. deep) on Lincoln st., next to Mr. James E. Groves' house. Can be sold in two lots, 75 ft. front and 100 ft. front, or the whole together.

I have other good estates besides these. Come in and see me.

I want to do you a good turn, and sell you a first class place.

G. W. SAMPSON,